U. S. WARRANT FOR MAN SOUGHT IN INVESTIGATION OF FARM MURDERS

Charge of Interstate Transportation of Stolen Auto Placed Against John Giannola.

OWNER OF PLACE TO NAME TENANT

Charles Young Willing to Turn Over Lease and Authorities Make Formal Demand for It.

A Federal warrant, charging interstate transportation of a stolen automobile, was issued here this afternoon for the arrest of John Giannola of 4815 Maffitt avenue, wealthy proprietor of a wholesale grocery at Seventh and Biddle streets, sought since Saturday night in an order from the sheriff of Madison County, Ill., who is conducting an investigation into the murders of Constable Omer Hockett and his chum, John Balke, whose bodies were found in a single grave at a Horseshoe Lake automobile plant, last Friday.

The warrant was issued following the discovery Saturday, by a Post-Dispatch reporter, of a Ford touring car which had been towed to the Midwest garage in Granite city from the old Sullivan farm at Horseshoe Lake, where the bodies were found.

Earl Price, mechanic at the garage, said he got the car from the farm on Jan. 25, the day Hockett and Balke disappeared, on an order given him by a truck driver employed by Giannola.

Said Giannola Bought Tires. Later, he said, an order was given by Giannola, personally, to have the car fitted out with tires. The tires were rolled across the street to the tire shop and filling station of Harry Goldman and the order was filled. Goldman said Giannola appeared at the place last Thursday, a day before the bodies were found, and said he would return the car later.

Department of Justice agents took possession of the car at Goldman's place today and brought it to St. Louis, where they got a warrant from United States Commissioner Atkins. The machine had been reported stolen on Jan. 13 in front of the home of its owner, Angelo Saputo, 4832 Maffitt avenue, a few doors from the Giannola home.

Issuance of the warrant was based on the fact that the car, when in St. Louis, was in possession of Giannola. Both Price and Goldman were positive in their statements that Giannola had given the order for refitting the car. They knew him well from seeing him about the two estimations, they said, and Price declared that he knew the man who ordered him to get the machine in Giannola's employ.

On the third day of their investigation of the murder of Constable Hockett and Balke, Madison county authorities today took their first step toward ascertaining the name of the tenant who had leased the 80-acre farm from Charles Young.

Neither State's Attorney Brown nor Sheriff Delmink had taken any action toward questioning Young, until they were informed by a Post-Dispatch reporter this morning that Young, under a demand from them, would produce a lease for the farm, disclosing the tenant's identity and furnish the first definite line for inquiry.

The State's Attorney ordered the sheriff to summon Young to Edinburgville with a copy of the lease. "I know the name of the man who leased the place but I don't want to give it out now," Young said Saturday night when a Post-Dispatch reporter asked him for it. Young was in conference with relatives and neighbors but he assured the reporter that he would get the lease from his safe deposit box and bring it to him Sunday morning.

"I don't think we are trying to get a man," remarked Young's son. "But you know how the moonshiners are. They don't like anything of bumping off an owner."

Father is under a physician's care now and he is terribly upset. Gangsters and moonshiners are bumping people off, there's a lot of protection from the law," Young said for officers.

Warrants for Arrests Now Signed by Woman

—By a Post-Dispatch Photographer.
MISS FLORENCE E. WEIGLE

MISS WEIGLE BECOMES NEW WARRANT OFFICER

Revolver in Sight Is Not Concealed, She Rules in First Case.

Miss Florence E. Weigle, Assistant Circuit Attorney, today assumed permanently the duties of warrant officer in Circuit Attorney Sidenor's office. It is the first time in St. Louis that the responsibility of refusing or issuing felony warrants has been given a woman.

Miss Weigle took her new desk this morning, succeeding Assistant Circuit Attorney Fish, who was reassigned as prosecutor in Court of Criminal Correction. Her first act was to refuse a warrant sought by a policeman in a concealed weapon case.

"Was the revolver fully concealed?" she asked.

"Oh, yes," replied the patrolman. "Where was it?"

"It was on the fender of an automobile."

"Warrant is refused."

"Do you mean to tell me I can't arrest a man with a revolver in plain view?"

"That's just what I mean. The law does not forbid a man walking down the street with a revolver in his hand; it must be concealed."

Miss Weigle has been on Sidenor's staff since his election in 1921. She has a broad experience, having been a stenographer in United States District Court before entering the private practice of law. She is a former president of the Town Club and former Republican president of the League of Women Voters.

DRAFT OF GERMANY'S PLEA TO ENTER LEAGUE APPROVED

Cabinet Acts Unanimously; Application Will Be Forwarded to Geneva at Once.

BERLIN, Feb. 8.—The cabinet today unanimously approved the draft of Germany's application for membership in the League of Nations.

The application will be forwarded to Geneva tonight.

ELASTIC SKIRTS IN ATHENS

Women Lower Them at Will to Circumvent New Edict.

ATHENS, Feb. 8.—Gen. Pangalos' edict against short dresses has hurt the feeling of some Athenian women, who consider themselves the best judges of what they should wear. So they have set to work to circumvent the Premier's ordinance and at the same time poke fun at it. They set forth clad in skirts that barely reach the knee and when a policeman comes in sight with a summons-like look, the dress lengths down to the ankles as if by magic.

An ingenious system of elastics enables the wearer to lengthen and shorten her dress at will.

TWO WOMEN KILLED BY TRAIN

Their Auto Hit at Crossing; Daughter of Each Hurt.

RIDGE FARM, Ill., Feb. 8.—Mrs. C. N. Frank and Mrs. William McAmmon, both of Robinson, Ill., were killed this forenoon at the Clover Leaf railroad crossing at this place, when their automobile was struck by a passenger train. A daughter of each woman was injured and was taken to a Danville hospital.

The woman were returning their daughters to school at the University of Illinois.

TWO E. ST. LOUIS YOUTHS GIVEN 99 YEARS FOR KILLING

Sentence of Charles Osborne and Paul Blackburn Means at Least 45 Years in Prison.

SHOT OFFICER AT NILDWOOD, ILL.

Widow of Deputy Sheriff, Attacked at His Filling Station, Principal Witness Against Pair.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. CARLINVILLE, Ill., Feb. 8.—A jury in Macoupin County Circuit Court here early yesterday convicted Charles Osborne, 18 years old, and Paul Blackburn, 19, both of East St. Louis, of the murder, July 20 last, of Deputy Sheriff William Barnes and fixed their punishment at 99 years' imprisonment in Chester penitentiary.

The case was given to the jury at 4:20 p. m. Saturday and the verdict was agreed upon as a compromise, five jurors favoring the death penalty as demanded by the State, while one suggested a 14-year sentence, the minimum penalty in Illinois for murder.

Must Serve at Least 45 Years. In Illinois a 99-year sentence is more drastic than a life sentence, as it is impossible for defendants given the 99-year sentence to obtain their release until after they have served 45 years in prison, while "life-term" prisoners are eligible to parole after serving 20 years.

Widow Describes Shooting. The principal State witness was Deputy Barnes' widow, who was with her husband at his filling station in Nildwood when he attempted to arrest the two youths for questioning as robbery suspects when they drove into his place for gasoline in a machine answering the description of one used by robbers who had held up two automobilists near Nildwood that night.

Mrs. Barnes identified the two defendants as the youths in the automobile and testified they fired at her husband after he had displayed his star and pointed his revolver at them with a command to surrender. She was shot in the arm and slightly wounded by the youths as they fled after fatally wounding her husband, who fired at them as they escaped, slightly wounding Blackburn.

Youths Admitted Shooting. The two defendants took the witness stand and admitted the shooting, but declared they thought they were being held up by Barnes, who, they testified, fired the first shot. Osborne testified he fired five shots after Barnes had fired at them.

After Barnes was killed a posse of several hundred men was organized and assisted in the search for the slayers. The two youths were captured the next day on a country road near Carlisle by the Sheriff and deputies. Shortly after their capture mobs twice formed at the outskirts of Carlisle, threatening to storm the county jail to obtain the prisoners, but were dissuaded each time.

AMBASSADOR'S A COSTLY JOB

Expense of Embassy at London Three Times the Pay, Frank Page Says.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—The American Ambassador to the Court of St. James has to pay from $25,000 to $35,000 a year out of his own pocket to run the Embassy in London. It was testified today before the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

Frank C. Page, son of Walter Hines Page, who was Ambassador to Great Britain in the Wilson administration, said that one year it cost his father $48,000 to run the Embassy; the salary is $12,000. The committee is considering a bill to provide $5,000,000 for Embassies. Representative Linticum (Dem.) Maryland, offered an amendment to double the amount, and a number of members endorsed the proposal.

RAIDERS IN EVENING DRESS

CHICAGO, Feb. 8.—Four detectives in evening dress raided a gambling club in a fashionable Sheridan road hotel and arrested the proprietor and seven persons similarly attired. Paraphernalia was confiscated.

Errand Boys Win High Places.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Two employees of R. H. Macy & Co. who started as errand boys were promoted to executive vice presidencies today. Raymond A. Kline was an errand boy in the stores in Allentown, Pa., and Atlanta, Ga., and Ernest Katz ran errands in Hartford.

DOWNTOWN STORE HELD UP AND $2600 PAYROLL STOLEN

Four Persons in Cashier's Office at Prufrock-Litton Co. When Two Young Men Walk In and Scoop Money Off Table.

Two armed robbers entered the cashier's office on the main floor of the Prufrock-Litton Furniture Co. store at Fourth and St. Charles streets, at 10 a. m. today, held up the woman cashier and three other persons and escaped with the weekly payroll of $2681.

The robbers brushed by a woman employee stationed at the door to greet customers, and apparently on a business errand, walked directly to the office, a partitioned room of wood and glass, situated in about the middle of the store. Seated inside were Miss Frances Pyll, 22, of 4132 Ashland avenue, the cashier, and Miss Helen Wesley, 19, of 3528 North Taylor avenue, a stenographer, who were engaged at a long table sorting out the payroll money; and H. S. Goldberg, treasurer of the company, who was at his desk talking with E. J. Kline of Wichita, Kan., a buyer.

Handkerchiefs Hide Faces. As the robbers, described as of youthful appearance, entered the office, they raised handkerchiefs to their faces. Goldberg, whose back was turned partly to the door, caught a glimpse of a revolver and remarked to Kline, "I believe we're going to have a holdup." The robber in the lead then commanded the men to close their eyes and turn about.

"The other robber," related Miss Wesley, "then came over to our table and said, 'Girls, just sit where you are and don't make a move.' Then he brought out a white canvas bag and began stuffing the bills into it. Once he remarked, 'You didn't expect this today, did you?' When he was through he shoved the silver aside and said, 'We haven't any use for this.'"

Wah Qu and Disappear. The robber with the money then called out to his companion and both walked out hurriedly, leaving by the Fourth street door they had entered, and turning south. By the time the employees had reached the door, the robbers were lost to sight.

There were six clerks and several customers on the floor but none knew the robbery, which consumed only two or three minutes, was taking place. Afterwards, Goldberg and Miss Pyll were taken to Police Headquarters to view photographs of robber suspects.

COOLIDGE URGED TO GIVE HIS VIEWS ON MINERS' STRIKE

Congressman Bloom Tells President Any Legislation He Favors Would Be Enacted.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—President Coolidge was asked today by Representative Bloom (Dem.), New York, to make a public pronouncement as to the necessities of the anthracite situation.

Any legislation the President might propose, Bloom said in a letter sent to the White House, would be approved by Congress within 24 hours.

"I appeal to you, Mr. President," Bloom said, "not only in the name of the people of my district, but of the millions in the area affected, for some word, some statement, that the people who are suffering from this terrible coal condition may know just where the Government of the United States stands with reference to this drastic condition."

"If there is a definite thought in your mind as to how the situation can be relieved by Federal legislation, if the influence of your leadership is powerful, I have no doubt, Mr. President, that the necessary Federal legislation would be given unanimously within 24 hours after you request it."

CROSSING WATCHMAN LOSES LIFE TRYING TO SAVE BOY

Both Are Crushed to Death by Train in Suburb of the National Capital.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Alexander Dunn, 65-year-old crossing watchman at Takoma Park, a Washington suburb, lost his life today in a heroic but futile effort to save that of 9-year-old Alexander Gregory. Both were crushed to death by the locomotive drawing the Capital Limited, a Baltimore & Ohio train.

The boy had wandered onto the tracks and was not seen by Dunn until the train was almost upon him. The watchman made a frantic attempt at rescue, but he was not quick enough to brush the lad out of danger.

MOTORMEN SUMMONED ON SPEEDING CHARGE

Two Drove Their Street Cars Too Fast, Motorcycle Policeman Says.

Motor Cycle Policeman Beckman, whose duty it is to keep traffic from exceeding 20 miles an hour in southwest St. Louis, has decided to find out whether street cars are amenable to the same rules as motorists. He arrested two motormen for speeding yesterday. The cases will come up in Police Court next Monday.

Beckman reported he was pursuing a speeding auto in Gravois avenue when he observed that the driver had kept abreast of a Cherokee street car for several blocks. So Beckman forgot about the auto, and timed the trolley car from Gustine to Chippewa street. Then he halted the motorman.

"What's the trouble?" asked the motorman.

"You were doing 35," said Beckman.

"I haven't any speedometer," the motorman said.

Beckman gave the motorman, Leo Risch, 3521 Indiana avenue, a summons. Then he rode in Grand boulevard and timed a Grand car across the viaduct. It moved at 28 miles an hour, he reported. The motorman, Luther Ostrom, 4267 St. Louis avenue, also received a summons.

There is no record of previous arrests for speeding by street cars, although the antipeed ordinance applies to "motor vehicles and street cars."

Chief of Police Clegg remarked, "Well, I guess they were violating the ordinance."

CABINET MEETS AMID HAZE OF CIGAR BLUE, COOLIDGE'S TREAT

President, Himself an Indefatigable Smoker, Inaugurates New White House Custom.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Although never set down as a vehement socialist, President Coolidge nevertheless is charged with making the air blue at each meeting of his Cabinet. The charge, however, has no relationship to the belated brick bats which are being hurled at the President. It is based solely on the discovery that Mr. Coolidge stands treat for the "smokes" at every sitting of the official family and the Cabinet discussions are carried forward in a haze of tobacco blue.

The President is said to be the first occupant of the White House to smoke cigars for his Cabinet. Mr. Coolidge also is one of the most indefatigable smokers over in the executive chair, comparing in this respect with Presidents Grant and McKinley.

NORRIS INJECTS MELLON BANK TAX CASE INTO DEBATE

Reads From Affidavit of Former Revenue Bureau Employee, Which Charges $90,000 Fraud.

ARGUES FOR HIS PUBLICITY PLAN

Nebraska Gets Into Sharp Clash With Williams—Wadsworth Gets Into Discussion.

By CHARLES G. ROSS, Chief Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—In support of his demand for publicity of income tax returns, Senator Norris, Independent Republican of Nebraska, read to the Senate this afternoon extracts from an affidavit filed with the Couzens Committee by Daniel Hickey, former St. Louisan and former employee of the Internal Revenue Bureau, charging that, as a result of "deliberate fraud" in the bureau, the three "Mellon banks" of Pittsburgh escaped the payment of more than $90,000 in taxes.

Details of the bureau transaction as related by Hickey were given in the Post-Dispatch Sunday. "Let in the sunlight of publicity on income tax returns," Norris pleaded with the Senate. "Let in the sunlight that will burn to death the germs of corruption that always grow in secret recesses when billions of dollars are involved."

"There is no more reason for government by secret tribunals in the Bureau of Internal Revenue than there is for secrecy in the Census Bureau. Why should we have secrecy in a bureau that deals with dollars and cents and no secrecy in one that deals with the social habits of the people? Ah, you can get all the publicity you want about people, regardless of the disgrace that may ensue, but when money is involved, you are told that these proceedings are secret."

Calls for Slipup of Cases. Norris called upon the Senate to run down some of the cases uncovered by the Couzens committee.

"Every member of the committee knows," he said, "that there are leads that might lead men to the penitentiary if they were followed out; that, at least, is the indication from the evidence."

Norris said that much information might be had from former members of the bureau, men who will talk only in confidence, fearing that if they permitted the use of their names, they would be injured in their present occupations.

He said that if his pending amendment failed, he would introduce another, prepared by former employees of the bureau, which would give the bureau the right to make disclosures to members of Congress without being held criminally liable.

The character of the Hickey affidavit, said Norris, was such as to show its author to be a man of exceptional ability. He then quoted Hickey's statement that he intended, in his affidavit, to "show how the machine works."

From this preface Norris swung into extracts from the affidavit relating to cases which Hickey said were marked by proceedings having "not the slightest justification in law."

References to Mellon. "Is Secretary Mellon," asked Norris, "insisting upon a law that will enable his own corporations to appear secretly before his own corporations to appear secretly before his own subordinates and ask for relief from their taxes? Is he that kind of a man? If I were in Mr. Mellon's place I should demand that every transaction in which my own corporations appeared before my subordinates receive the fullest publicity. Otherwise, there is certain to be suspicion, whether unjust or otherwise."

"Isn't it embarrassing to Senators here to demand a law which makes the Secretary of the Treasury a member of a secret tribunal which secretly rules upon the tax which his corporations pay? It certainly is humiliating to me."

Argues for Amendment. The proposed amendment is identical with a provision written into the last tax bill by the Senate, by vote of 48 to 27, but rejected in conference in favor of the compromise provision in the present law, allowing publication only of the names of taxpayers and the amounts paid. The pending bill carries no publicity feature.

"Publicity in public affairs," said Norris, "always benefits the public. Secrecy in public affairs always does the opposite."

Promoter of Combine Attacked by Government

WILLIAM B. WARD.

STOCKS DROP SHARPLY IN NEW YORK MARKET

Suit Against Ward Interests, Calling in of Loans Causes Bearish Movement.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Stock prices collapsed sharply this noon on selling inspired by three bearish developments—the announcement after the close Saturday that stock and bond loans of members of the New York Exchange exceeded $2,500,000,000; the calling of about $20,000,000 in loans by New York banks today, and the filing of an antitrust suit against the Ward interests and others in Baltimore.

The break came after the market had successfully withstood the first shock of selling pressure soon after the opening.

Announcement that the Federal Government had brought antitrust proceedings against the Ward interests and others led to heavy offerings of food shares, the collapse of which led to heavy selling in other sections of the list. California Packing broke 2 1/4 points to 15 1/4 and Postum Cereal 9 to 11 1/4 on rumors that Potomac's offer to purchase a majority interest in the former had been withdrawn by a mutual agreement. The B stock of the Ward Baking Company, which was mentioned in the Government's suit, broke 1 1/2 points to 69, and the shares of the Continental and General Baking Companies, also named in the Government's complaint, dropped two to six points.

Dupont and General Electric each collapsed six points and United Fruit, American Can, Sears Roebuck, General Motors, Hudson Motor, New York Cammers, International Harvester and Coca Cola sold off three to five points.

STRIKING MINER'S WIFE DIES FROM STARVATION

Mother of Five Gave Food Obtained From Soup Kitchen to Her Children.

WILKESBARE, Pa., Feb. 8.—Starvation, as a result of the anthracite strike, has claimed its first victim.

Desolation and want have been reported from all parts of the region for several weeks, but the first case of actual starvation was disclosed yesterday when the death of Mrs. Mary Harrington, at Ashland, wife of a striking miner, was investigated. Deputy Coroner Sener said he was convinced that her death was due to starvation.

Mrs. Harrington's husband had left the coal field to find employment elsewhere. What little food she had received, Sener said, was obtained from a soup kitchen and this had been given to her children, one of which was only five months old. The deputy coroner said the woman had been too proud to ask aid.

DWYER PLEADS NOT GUILTY

35 of 61 Indicted on Dry Law Charge Held for Trial.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Thirty-five of the 61 men, including William V. Dwyer, race track owner, indicted on Jan. 28 on charges of violating the national prohibition law, today pleaded not guilty and were held for trial in Federal Court on March 1.

The remaining defendants failed to appear and bench warrants were ordered issued by Judge Howe.

U. S. FILES SUIT TO STOP HUGE BREAD-BAKING COMBINATION

Federal Court at Baltimore Asked to Enjoin Pending Mergers as Violation of Trust Laws.

HISTORY OF SCHEME TRACED BACK TO 1921

Ward, Continental, General and United Concerns Named Together With Eight Individuals.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—The Federal Courts were asked by the Government today to prevent formation of a huge combination in the baking industry by the Ward interests and others.

In an antitrust suit filed in Baltimore, the Government named the General Baking, Continental Baking, and United Baking interests as linked with the Ward companies in the enterprise. An injunction was requested.

It was charged in the petition that the companies named already had violated both the Sherman and Clayton anti-trust acts, and it was asked that the defendants not only be prevented from further amalgamation but also be required to dissolve any combinations already entered into.

The Ward Food Products Corporation, whose recent incorporation in Baltimore led to much criticism in Congress and has become a subject of investigation by the Federal Trade Commission, headed the list of those cited by the Government as making up the combination.

List of Defendants. The other corporations and individuals named as defendants were: The Ward Baking Corporation, the Ward Baking Co., the General Baking Corporation, the General Baking Co., the Continental Baking Corporation, United Bakeries Corporation and William B. Ward, Howard B. Ward, William D. Deinger, Paul H. Helms, J. W. Runbough, B. E. Paterson, George G. Barber and George B. Smith.

Specifically, the petition asked: "That the defendants be adjudged to have violated both the Sherman law and the Clayton act."

"That the defendants be enjoined from doing any act in furtherance of the alleged combination, conspiracy and attempt to monopolize."

"That the defendants, the Ward Baking Corporation, the Continental Baking Corporation, the General Baking Corporation and the Ward Food Products Corporation, be enjoined from acquiring the whole or any part of the stocks, bonds or other evidences of indebtedness of the physical assets of each other."

"That the last named defendants be perpetually enjoined from having any director, officer, agent or employee in common with each other, and from entering into any contract, agreements or understandings with one another for joint purchases of materials, supplies or equipment, or for a common policy in the sale of their output."

Plea to Restore Competition. The Court was asked further to require the corporate defendants to dispossess themselves of "the stocks, bonds or other evidences of indebtedness of any competing company heretofore acquired by them to the end that competition may be fully restored in the baking industry."

The Department of Justice said in its investigation that which evidenced "a clear intention on the part of those responsible for the mergers eventually to bring together the several merged companies under the control of one gigantic corporation."

The one big merger plan was developed by the department to have been conceived by William B. Ward and his associates as far back as 1921. The successive steps thus far toward realization of the plan were enumerated as follows:

TREASURY VERSION OF $91,472 RULING ON MELLON BANKS

Three Depositories of Identical Ownership Were Held Not to Be Closely Related.

BECAUSE EACH HAD SEPARATE CHARTER

They Had Filed Consolidated Return and Director Cited "Perfect Example" Under the Law.

By PAUL Y. ANDERSON,
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—An examination of the record discloses the grounds upon which a subordinate in the Treasury Department ruled that the three Mellon banks of Pittsburgh, Pa., were not in closely related lines of business, thus enabling them to cut $91,472.37 from their excess profits taxes for the year 1917—a transaction which is characterized in an affidavit filed with the Couzens investigating committee of the Senate as "a direct and deliberate fraud upon the Government."

As told in the Post-Dispatch yesterday, the ownership of the three banks is identical, the Mellon Trust Co., owning the Mellon National Bank and the Union Savings Bank outright. Thirty-four per cent of the stock of the parent bank is owned by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, members of his family, who therefore profited to the extent of about $30,000 from the Treasury Department's ruling.

Under a regulation requiring affiliated companies to file a consolidated return, the banks originally filed such a return. The return was held to be affiliated when controlled by the same stockholders and engaged in closely related lines of business. In most cases a consolidated return resulted in lower taxes.

Difference of $91,472.
In this instance, however, it resulted in an assessment of $91,472.37 greater than would have been made had each bank filed a separate return. Four years after the return was filed, an attorney for the banks protested that they should have been permitted to file separate returns. The protest was promptly allowed by the Treasury Department, and the case closed.

The record shows that the protest, and the resultant ruling, were based on the fact that each bank had a separate charter, and that the character of banking business conducted by each institution was slightly different from that of its sister banks.

The argument was that the Union Trust and Union Savings were State banks, while the Mellon was a national bank; that the savings bank was devoted to the creation of new wealth, while the trust company was devoted to the conservation of existing wealth, and the national bank could not act in a fiduciary capacity, while the others could.

It was upon these arguments that the Treasury Department ruled the banks were not engaged in closely related lines of business, and hence were entitled to make separate returns and pay less taxes.

In marked contrast to this argument were the remarks made upon the floor of the Senate last Monday by Senator David A. Reed (Rep.) of Pennsylvania, who is a director in all three banks, and whose law firm is counsel for them.

Defends Wrong Thesis.
Arguing under the mistaken impression that the banks had been required to make a consolidated return, the Senator said:

"It happens that I am a director in each of the three banks mentioned by the Senator (Norris) from Nebraska. The truth is, and I say it of my own knowledge, that the Union Trust Co. owned every share of the stock of the Union Savings Bank except the qualifying shares owned by directors. It also owned every share of the Mellon National Bank except the qualifying shares."

"In every sense these corporations are one enterprise. They were exactly what Congress meant to provide for when it provided for consolidated returns. I cannot imagine any justice in treating them as otherwise than consolidated."

ed. I never knew, until this complaint arose, that anybody had ever contended that they ought to be treated in any other way than as one enterprise. As long as we are going to have a system of consolidated returns we cannot get a more obvious case of the unification of corporations than exists in that case."

The irony of this situation is heightened when it is known that the attorney who protested the consolidated return, and obtained the ruling for separate returns, was a member of Senator Reed's law firm.

Investigator's Report.
It now appears that L. C. Manson, counsel for the Couzens Committee in its investigation of the Bureau of Internal Revenue, made an investigation of the Mellon bank case. In reporting to the committee he said:

"Their contention that they were not affiliated was based upon the fact that the charters were different; for example, that the National Bank couldn't do a trust company business, nor the trust company do a savings bank business, etc. But I want to call your attention to the fact that the statute does not require that companies do the same business to be considered affiliated; it requires that they do a 'closely related business.'"

"Of course, the subsidiaries of the steel corporation are not in the same business. Some may be steamboat lines and some may be railroads."

"Was this ruling generally enforced in the case of other national banks, savings banks and trust companies?" asked Senator Jones (Dem.) of New Mexico.

"I looked into that matter," Manson replied, "in connection with the First National Bank of Chicago and the First Trust and Savings Bank, because I happen to know that the same situation existed there. I found that these banks were held to be affiliated and were required to make a consolidated return for that year."

"Of course," remarked Senator Jones, "such banks are never authorized by their charters to do the same business. That is why they have separate charters."

Treasury Findings.
It was disclosed that the Treasury Department had made a field investigation of the case at the conclusion of which the auditor reported:

"This consolidated group carries on all branches of the banking and trust company business. In addition to its regular banking functions the Mellon National Bank conducts an investment department for the purchase and sale of securities. The Union Trust Co. conducts an extensive trust department, acts as registrar and trustee for corporations issuing securities and purchases and sells issues of securities, as well as carrying on a general banking business. The Union Savings Bank carries on an extensive safe deposit business in addition to the banking business."

This report was on file in the Treasury Department at the time when one department chief ruled that the banks were not affiliated, and another department chief ordered the ruling confirmed, thus lopping $91,472.37 off of the tax bill. Both of these chiefs were afterward promoted.

SPANIARDS PUT OFF NEXT HOP

Will Resume Flight Toward Buenos Aires Tomorrow, Not Today.

By the Associated Press.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Feb. 8.—Commander Ramon Franco, Spanish transatlantic aviator, decided last night to postpone his jump toward Buenos Aires until tomorrow.

It had been his intention to fly the seaplane X-Plus Ultra down the coast to Montevideo, Uruguay, today.

Franco and his two companions who have flown here from Palos, Spain, placed a wreath on the statue of Alberto Santos Dumont, one of the pioneers in aviation, here today. Franco also attended several receptions and was made an honorary member of the Brazilian Aero Club.

Turf supplies are held up, work in the fields is at a standstill, crops are rotting and the livestock is suffering.

Woman, 116, Dies in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Feb. 8.—Mrs. Pauline Fatti, said to be 116 years old, who came to Chicago when it was a village, died here. She crossed the Atlantic from her native Italy 93 years ago, a journey which, at that time, required three months.

Owner of Moonshine Farm Willing to Name Tenant

ing evening, she was now agitated. "We can't let you see the lease," she said nervously. "We won't give out his name until the law requires it. If the officers want the name they can look at the lease. Why don't they come themselves if they want to know who rented the farm?" Mr. Young can't keep the promise he made last night. He can't tell you the name."

Young, a farmer, resides on a tract of land north of the upper arm of Horseshoe Lake. About two years ago he bought the old Sullivan farm, scene of the murders, and leased it to an Italian who said it would be used for hunting and fishing. The Sullivan farm is across the water from his place to the south, between the arms of the horseshoe shape from which the lake takes its name.

However, it has been generally known in the neighborhood of the Sullivan farm that extensive moonshining operations were going on there. The road to the farm was traversed day and night by trucks loaded with sugar and corn, and by touring cars carrying Italians who are presumed to have tended the mash and stills and assisted in canning the alcohol. At night the trucks returning from the farm were laden with five-gallon cans of the liquor, covered with burlap sacks.

The plant was only one of the distilling plants, large and small, that dot Madison County. Residents of the Tri-Cities have grown accustomed to the sight of sugar-laden trucks rumbling through the streets on the way to stills on outlying farms. One of the bootleggers, said to be the largest operator in the county, maintains a storehouse in Madison where sugar, corn and other moonshine materials are kept in large quantities.

Story of Widow.
Constable Hockett's widow does not think the Madison County authorities are as diligent as they should be in attempting to run down her husband's slayers. Before leaving Edwardsville for Greenville, where her husband was buried yesterday, she told in more detail of her efforts to find her husband and Balke when they failed to return after going out on a trip to the Horseshoe Lake moonshining plant. She still insists she does not know why her husband went there, but Madison County authorities, as has been told, have openly expressed the opinion that the element of graft is one of the motives for the murders.

"When he didn't come back by the next day, Jan. 30, I became alarmed," Mrs. Hockett told a reporter. "So I went to see Jim Mike, a bootlegger at Granite City. Mike told me two Italians had my husband and Balke prisoners. He named them and said, 'If you want to see your husband alive you'd better see the Federal men.'"

"I went back to Edwardsville to see Justice of the Peace Dale. My husband is attached to his court. I gave Judge Dale the names of two Italians Mike had mentioned and he said he would turn them over to Sheriff Deimling."

"Nothing was done to find Mr. Hockett and Balke, however," said the widow. "I went to the Federal agents in East St. Louis. When they made their raid Friday it was too late."

"Did Sheriff Deimling act on the information?" she was asked. "Why don't you ask him?" she exclaimed. "He knows a lot about this case."

Denied by Sheriff.
The reporter later related the widow's story to the Sheriff, who declared that he was then hearing it for the first time.

"Why didn't she give me that information?" asked the Sheriff. "I'll put that woman in jail when she gets back from the funeral and hold her until she tells what she knows."

The Sheriff got the State's Attorney on the telephone and asked the reporter to relate Mrs. Hockett's story to him. When that point in her story was reached, where she referred to giving the information from Mike to Justice Dale, Brown interrupted to remark: "I don't believe Mrs. Hockett told you this. She did not tell any of this tale at the Coroner's inquest. Justice Dale will tell you she did not give him that information."

The reporter started to hang up the receiver at this point, but Deimling took it and urged the State's Attorney to listen further. The reporter then finished relating the widow's story and the State's Attorney remarked that he still doubted she had told anyone that story and that he had his own plan for a solution of the murders.

Man's Arrest Ordered.
Deimling a third time talked to Brown about the widow's story and said he would make a request of the St. Louis police to arrest John Giannola. Later he made a written request to the St. Louis Chief of Police to take Giannola in custody and gave the order to the reporter for delivery.

When the Sheriff was talking over the telephone at one time to Brown, Mrs. Deimling, who was sitting in her husband's office, told the reporter that certain Madison County Constables had been protecting the operations of moonshiners in Madison County for a long time.

"My husband has received no co-operation in his work for law enforcement from the constables," said Mrs. Deimling. "While the Sheriff has always sought to enforce the prohibition law, certain constables have protected the moonshiners, for money, of course."

"Groups of Federal prohibition agents who have operated in Madison County have done the same thing. The Federal agents on some occasions have come here, ignored the Sheriff's office, and have gone out into the county, accepted money from moonshiners, made no arrests and then moved on."

"It is my opinion that the killings down at Horseshoe Lake grew out of demands on the moonshiners for money."

Justice Dale admitted today that Mrs. Hockett had come to him last Monday, five days before the bodies were found, and had given him the names of two Italians suspected of holding Hockett and Balke as captives.

"I wrote them down on a card, but I lost it," Justice Dale said. "So I didn't get to give the Sheriff the names. But after the bodies were discovered, I found the card."

"And what did you do with it?" "I gave the names to State's Attorney Brown, who said, 'Oh, I've known those names for some time.'"

Says He Didn't Get Names.
The State's Attorney then was asked if anyone had given him the names of the captors of Hockett and Balke.

"No," he replied, positively. "Not at any time. The names of the men were mentioned for the first time to me last Thursday when the Federal agents came to me for a description of the Horseshoe Lake whisky farm."

"I had made out a search warrant for the place some months ago for another raid and was able to describe it for the Federal men. While I was making up the description someone remarked: 'That sounds like So-and-so's place,' mentioning the name of one of the men now involved in the case. That was the first time I had ever heard the name."

Deimling's only comment was: "Dale didn't have those names. I know he didn't." And, he said later when conversation veered to liquor raids, "It's not my business to make raids. That's the job of the prohibition agents."

Salesman Questioned.
In an effort to check that part of Mrs. Hockett's story relating to Mike, the restaurant man, State's Attorney Brown and Sheriff Deimling today questioned John Christoff, an auto salesman of 1324 Madison avenue, Madison.

Christoff had told a Post-Dispatch reporter Saturday night that several days prior to the recovery of the bodies of Hockett and Balke, Mike had told him two Italians had named the captors. The names given by Christoff as coming from Mike were the same as those given by Mrs. Hockett.

In connection with the inquiry, the State's Attorney announced that he would issue informations against two Constables, named by Mike at the inquest Saturday, as receivers of bribes for protection to moonshiners.

It was following the Saturday night discussion that Sheriff Deimling ordered the arrest of John Giannola, as told exclusively in yesterday's Post-Dispatch. The Sheriff wants to question Giannola about statements of Granite City residents that large quantities of sugar were hauled through Granite City on Giannola's trucks, and particularly as to who his sugar customers were. Also he wants to question the grocer about another statement that, upon order from Giannola, a stolen automobile was loaded last week from the Sullivan farm to a Granite City garage.

At John Giannola's home today his wife said he was on a trip and that she last heard of him from Florida.

She explained that he was head of the Giannola Grocery Co., wholesale establishment at Second and Biddle streets, and said he had left three weeks ago on an annual trip through his trade territory.

"He couldn't have been seen in Granite City last Thursday," said. "Someone is mistaken. I didn't own a Ford touring car until I can't understand why the should want to question him and I'll tell him about it as soon as I hear from him again."

Prior to the interview with John Giannola, Vito Giannola, brother of John, had declared John had somewhere on the East Side lived that he did not know where Vito lives in the building at 4115 Maffitt, avenue, a double house where Mrs. John Giannola was seen today.

Vito is the proprietor of the Italian-American Meat Market at Second and Biddle streets and is regarded as an influential member of the North Side Italian colony. His third brother, Frank, formerly had a candy store at 1023 Francis avenue.

Hundreds from neighboring towns went yesterday to Granite City, Hockett's home town, for the funeral of the murdered Constable. The Free Methodist Church, where the services were held, was inadequate to accommodate the crowd, and those who were unable to find the church waited for several hours for the cortege to pass.

Four ministers took part in the two-hour services. The Rev. W. C. Cochran, district elder of the Free Methodist Church, declared in his sermon that murders are always found in the wake of a reform movement.

Hockett was a member of the Klux Klan and at the time he was buried, where he was buried, the Rev. T. R. Randle, pastor of the Baptist Church at Lexington, Mo., and formerly pastor of the Baptist Church at Edwardsville, sang "The Flag Crossed Before the Body was Laid."

Funeral services for Balke were held today at the home of his father, Fritz Balke, in Edwardsville. Five sisters also survive him.

MAN ROBBED AS HE STOPS HIS AUTO FOR BOULEVARD
Manager of Nafziger Baking Co. Loses $167 and Checks Aggregating $442.90.

When Edwin Delaney, manager of the Nafziger Baking Co., took a short drive on the boulevard at Page boulevard and Saratoga street, at 1:30 p. m. today, he was held up by three men in a large touring car which stopped beside his machine.

Two men stepped from the machine, with revolvers, and forced him to surrender a cloth sack containing $167 and checks aggregating $442.90.

Delaney was driving from his office to the West St. Louis Trust Co. at Saratoga street and East avenue. The money and checks represented Saturday's receipts of his company, which were protected by insurance. Delaney lives at 1427 Hodiamont avenue.

Other cities throughout the State reported various attitudes as to the law. Independent gas dealers in Chattanooga continue business, while Standard Oil of Indiana Refining companies closed their doors.

At Knoxville and Bristol reports of gasoline and tire stations closed, and candy and lunch stands as usual. No citations were issued.

At Bristol, on the Virginia-Tennessee line, presented an unusual problem, with the filling station on the Tennessee side of the line closed, while those on the Virginia side remained open.

Warrants Issued for Arrest of Delaney.
Warrants for the arrest of the man charged with violating the law, passed in 1925 were sworn out by Nashville attorney. The penalties for each citation, half to the State and half to the person making the complaint.

A count charge of $4 would be added to each fine. Magistrate Reasonover, who will hear cases announced, this would be to those pleading guilty who those who plead not guilty would be bound over to criminal court for trial. The next case is expected.

Hunters, fishermen and golfers were included in the edict, but they were arrested, although deputy sheriffs patrolled the State for such violators.

Some evaded the law by purchasing sandwiches with their money, thereby classing the sandwiches as "food" and "a thing of necessity."

The law, after its many years of nonenforcement, came to life when the State Supreme Court handed down a decision in the case of a filling station owner charged with violating the law. He obtained an injunction preventing further arrests, but it involved on the ground that he was operating an unnecessary business on Sunday.

More stringent enforcement of the law, which was not sympathetic with the law, but merely making test cases.

Next Sunday will see even more stringent enforcement. High warrants to be sworn out against all persons who are charged with violations, including chauffeurs, owners of automobiles taking them to church.

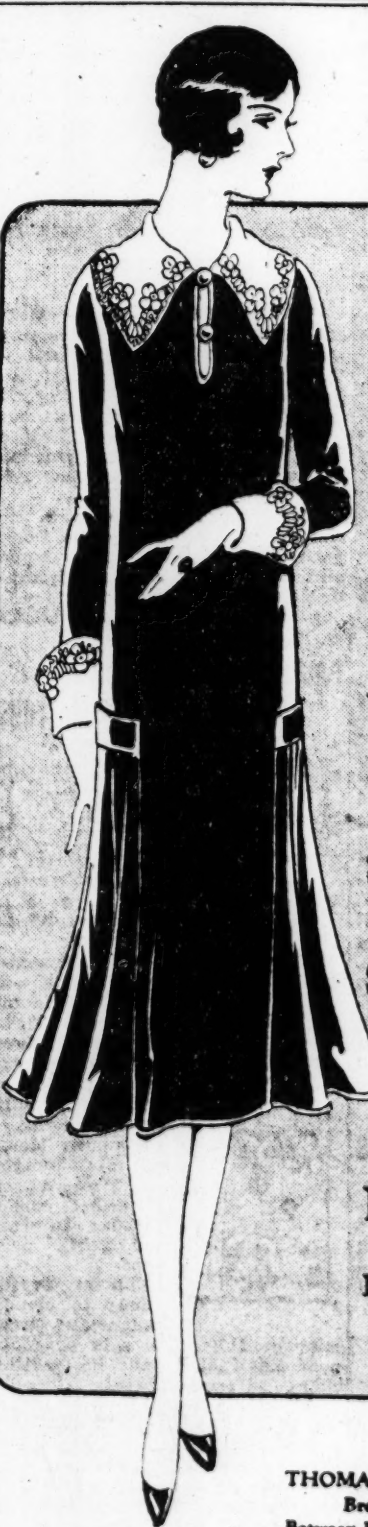

Sheriff Briley said all warrants would be served, but that his officers would not seek to find violators on their own responsibility. Local radio stations which broadcast Sunday afternoon programs will be in line for warrants next day, High announced.

Day, High announced, a sermon which sends out a moral message will not be molested.

Noah W. Cooper, chairman of the Sabbath Observance Committee of the Methodist Church, said he would aid in the fight to make Nashville a law-abiding city.

Rumors are current of gasoline collectors who saved the day some motorists and who will be better organized next Sunday.

TENNESSEE BLUE LAW, 123 YEARS OLD, ENFORCED

Nashville Publishers Among Those Cited for Following 'Common Avocation' on Sunday.

FILLING STATION OWNERS INCLUDED

Complaints Filed by Lawyer, Who Opposes Law, but Wants to Make Test Case.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Feb. 8.—A Sunday blue law, 123 years old, kept many motorists at home, closed cigar stores and other establishments in parts of the State yesterday, while other sections reported business as usual.

Sixteen persons were cited in Nashville for violation of the law which provided a fine for "any merchant, artificer, tradesman, farmer, or any other persons found guilty of doing or exercising any of the common avocations of life, or of causing or permitting the same to be done by his children or servants, except as hereinafter expressly excepted."

Among those receiving citations were J. G. Stahlman, executive editor of the Nashville Banner, and Luke Lea, publisher of the Nashville Tennessean; J. P. W. Brown, manager of the Nashville Railway and Light Co. The managers of gasoline filling stations, restaurants, automobile rental companies, candy and cigar stores, and cocktail parlors were also included.

Other cities throughout the State reported various attitudes as to the law. Independent gasoline stations in Chattanooga continued business, while Standard Oil and Gulf Refining companies closed.

Memphis, where the law was enforced, reported that the city of Memphis and the Tennessee side of the town were closed, while those on the Virginia side remained open.

Penalty Is $3 Fine. Warrants for the arrest of those charged with violating the law passed in 1903 were sworn out by Nashville attorney. The penalty is $3 for each citation, half to go to the State and half to the person being cited.

A count charge of $4 would be added to each fine. Magistrate Davidson, who will hear the cases announced. This would apply to those pleading guilty while those who plead not guilty would be bound over to criminal court. A test case is expected.

Hunters, fishermen and golfers were included in the edict, but none were arrested, although deputy sheriffs patrolled the State looking for such violators.

Some evaded the law by purchasing sandwiches with their soft drinks thereby classifying the service as "food" and "a thing of necessity."

The law, after its many years of nonenforcement, came to light when the State Supreme Court handed down a decision recently in the case of a filling station owner charged with violating the law. He obtained an injunction to prevent further arrests, but it was dissolved on the ground that he was operating an unnecessary business on Sunday.

More Stringent Enforcement. George W. Hight, who swore out warrants, said he was not in sympathy with the law, but was merely making test cases.

Next Sunday will see even more stringent enforcement, Hight said. Warrants to be sworn out against all pursuing their regular occupations, including chauffeurs in charge of automobiles taking citizens to church.

Sheriff Briley said all warrants would be served, but that his officers would not seek to find out who was on their own responsibility.

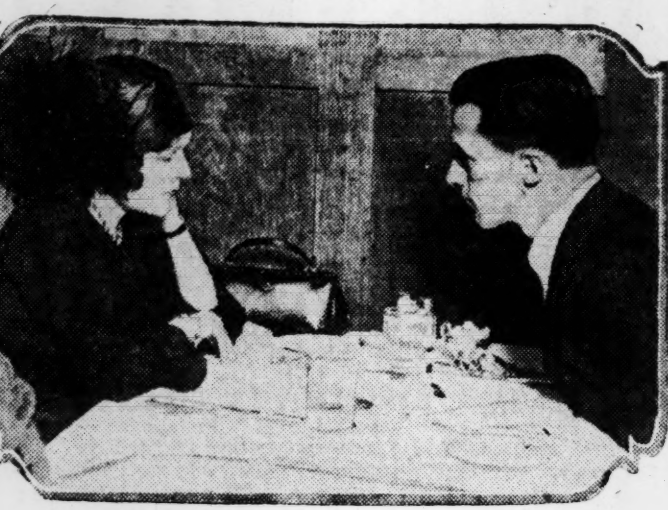

Local radio stations which broadcast Sunday afternoon programs will be in line for warrants next Sunday, Hight announced. The station which sends out a morning sermon will not be molested.

Noah W. Cooper, chairman of the Sabbath Observance Crusade committee of the Methodist church, said he would aid in the effort to make Nashville all blue next Sunday.

Rumors are current of gasoline tappers who saved the day for many motorists and who will be better organized next Sunday.

3000-Room Hotel or Chicago. CHICAGO, Feb. 8.—A 3000-room hotel to be called The Coolidge, in honor of the President, will be started here within 60 days with a view of completion by May, 1927, Plottke & Grosby, builders, announced. The hotel will be 25 stories high and cost $5,000,000. The site, bought for a reported $600,000, is on Wabash avenue at Seventh street.

Banker's Wife and Young Adviser

MRS. ANNE U. STILLMAN and FOWLER MCCORMICK. "I LOVE him as I do one of my sons," she said of McCormick just before sailing on a trial honeymoon after a reconciliation with her husband, James A. Stillman. McCormick counseled her during the long drawn-out court scandal, suggested that she take up the study of psychoanalysis and finally was her adviser in the settlement of her marital difficulties.

Mrs. Stillman Teaching Husband Psycho-Analysis

Banker and Wife, Reconciled and on Trial Honeymoon, Turn to New Mental Science in Quest of Happiness.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Psychoanalysis, in which Mrs. James A. Stillman was originally interested by young Fowler McCormick, is now being studied aboard the Olympic by her husband during their trial reconciliation.

McCormick is the son of Harold P. McCormick of Chicago and a grandson of John D. Rockefeller. When Mrs. Stillman was broken in spirit because of divorce proceedings brought by her husband, McCormick suggested she study psychoanalysis.

Mrs. Stillman and McCormick, who is 17 years her junior, have long been friends, but talk of marriage between them was always nonsense, she has insisted. She loves him, she said once, just as she loves her sons.

McCormick, Mrs. Anne Stillman Davidson and her brother James (Bud), played a large part in preliminary discussions that resulted in the trial reconciliation. Mrs. Davidson, abroad, won her father and mother back to affectionate interest in each other's welfare.

Bud and McCormick deferred the reconciliation for six weeks, in the belief that Mrs. Stillman was giving everything and getting nothing in return.

Only when their doubts were removed at a family conference at Mrs. Stillman's home at Grand Anse did the banker's wife decide to exchange, that the Missouri returns were not highly informative. They were made, he added, by the Assessor, on the basis of property values, and were "public."

Norris caught quickly at the word. "Yes," he retorted, "that's just the point. They are public. But the only publicity we have had in connection with Federal taxes is that which has been supplied us by the Couzens committee. The report of that committee ought to demonstrate to anybody that we are losing hundreds of millions through secrecy, and that some taxpayers, on the other hand, are paying unjust taxes through secrecy."

$80 Taken in Drug Store Holdup. Three men, who rode in a taxicab, held up the drug store of Frank Bressie, 4901 Page boulevard, late last night, and escaped with $80 cash. Bressie reported he fired four shots after the taxicab as it sped away.

Couzens Supports Norris. Supporting Norris, Senator Couzens of Michigan, who is using the disclosures made by his investigating committee as the basis of an attack on concealment of returns, asserted that it was already possible for a business man, through his banking connections and through Dan's and Bradstreet's, to get the most intimate information about his competitor's business.

This, said Couzens, could be easily done, whereas "it would take a Philadelphia lawyer, and perhaps a Pittsburgh lawyer, to find out what some of these returns mean."

This was a fling at Reed, whose Pittsburgh law firm represents the Mellon interests.

Clash With Williams. Norris clashed sharply with Senator Williams (Rep.) of Missouri, who wanted to know whether the State of Nebraska, like Oklahoma, had a statutory system of "tax ferrets"—a system that paid a premium to anyone who discovered from the tax returns that somebody was evading his rightful taxes. Norris said he presumed that the laws of Nebraska were about like those of Missouri, "though you probably have to show the Missourians offener."

Williams said, after a further

SEVEN MEN ARRESTED ON WOMAN'S CHARGES

Two Sisters of Victim of Attack After Dance Escaped From Auto.

Seven young men are under arrest in connection with criminal attacks on a young woman early yesterday after they left a dance hall in the Carlton hotel today, defeating Miss Ethel Fischer, 6-0, 6-0.

The complainant, Miss Mathilda Morgott, 22 years old, who gave an address on Eads avenue, jumped from a sedan at Seventh and Russell boulevards at 3:30 a. m. yesterday. She was screaming. The automobile sped away.

At the city hospital physicians verified the fact that Miss Morgott had been attacked. She also was suffering from hysteria. She was visited at the hospital by her sisters, Cecile and Mary, who had been searching for her, and who told the police that they had attended a dance under the auspices of a Bavarian society at Concordia Turner Hall, Thirteenth and Arsenal streets, Saturday night, and as they were leaving about 2 a. m. a young man, known to them as "Charlie," volunteered to drive them home. He placed himself at the wheel of a Dodge sedan, parked outside, and they got in with him.

As the car was pulling away, three youths crowded in. One of these rode a few blocks only.

The sisters noticed they were being driven south, away from their homes, and protested. The car stopped at the foot of Potomac street, and the three men attempted to molest the three sisters. Cecile and Mary fought their way out of the car and ran toward Broadway. Two other automobiles drove up and men left them and went to the sedan.

Miss Mathilda Morgott, continuing the story, said she was attacked by "Charlie" and his two companions and then by men who came to the car from other automobiles. She lost consciousness, but recovered as the sedan slowed up for a boulevard stop at Seventh and Russell, where she jumped out.

Meanwhile, her sisters had summoned a private watchman and policemen, and they went to the foot of Potomac street. The three automobiles were seen.

Investigation by police resulted in the arrests of men booked as Charles Schiff, 24 years old, of 1108 Madison street; Neal Ogilvey, 19, and his brother, Michael, 17, both of 2018 North Tenth street; Hawthorne Wylie, 20, 2524 Glasgow avenue; Bernard Kuncie, 18, 1445 North Ninth street; Gilbert Hare, 20, 1439A North Ninth street, and Charles Sweet, 19, 1510 North Twelfth street.

An eighth man is being sought. The Dodge sedan of Neal Ogilvey was confiscated by police. Michael Ogilvey said he followed the sedan to Potomac street and heard a young woman screaming, but did not go near the sedan.

A 15-year-old girl who had attended the dance with Sweet told police he and she followed the Dodge sedan in another car to Potomac street, where Sweet made improper advances. When she resisted, Sweet went over to the sedan, then returned and took her home.

9286 PERSONS IN DAY ATTEND SHAW'S GARDEN ORCHID SHOW. Attendance at Shaw's Garden yesterday, with the Orchid Show entering its last 10 days and some 200 rare camellias and azaleas coming into bloom, was 9289, as compared to 9459 for the whole month of February last year.

The week's attendance was 12,905. A week ago Sunday the Orchid Show was attended by 5661 persons, helping to establish a record for January at the garden.

Suzanne Lenglen Beats Helen Wills in Doubles

Real Test of Their Prowess, However, Is Still to Come in Singles This Week—American Girl Popular.

By the Associated Press. CANNES, France, Feb. 8.—Helen Wills easily won her first match in the Carlton tournament today, defeating Miss Ethel Fischer, 6-0, 6-0.

The American champion was given scarcely any opposition by the English girl, who won only five points in the first set and eight in the second. Not a single game went to deuce and three were won at love.

Miss Wills, after her lulling tactics of yesterday, returned to her usual hard driving and found the corners without trouble.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World. Copyright, 1926, by the Press and Pulitzer Publishing Co. (New York World and Post-Dispatch).

NICE, France, Feb. 8.—The women tennis champions of Europe and America faced each other yesterday afternoon, the match being at the doubles, and Suzanne Lenglen of France triumphed over the American, Helen Wills. In 30 thrilling minutes of alternate crashing and lobbing in the finals of the mixed doubles, Miss Lenglen and Baron Henri de Morpurgo defeated Miss Wills and the Swiss star, Charles F. Aeschlimann, 6-1, 6-2.

Because Lenglen and Miss Wills had partners, however, the match was not conclusive, and the Riviera looks forward to the singles tournament this week, when the two are expected to meet again.

The skipping, prancing Lenglen was the first to appear, in a white silk skirt and pale rose sweater and turban, going across to her ailing father, who was huddled in rags on the front row of spectators.

Miss Wills, simply attired in a cotton dress with claret-colored trim, stood waiting grimly alone until summoned for photographs with Lenglen.

Helen Refuses to Smile. "You must smile as I do," said Lenglen, screwing up her astonishing features, but Miss Wills preferred to retain her demure, half-frightened look.

There was no mistaking who were the favorites of the 5000 spectators when the American girl and her partner stepped on the court, and though she made many faults, Miss Wills' courageous and frequent fighting comebacks held the sympathy of the crowd throughout the match.

The American girl had sent some great shots back repeatedly, though very little of her famous forearm drive was in evidence. Her worst point was overlooming and not being in the right spot.

At the end of the match she was given a great ovation, with cries of "splendid, Helen!" while the chief English tennis expert, Stanley Doust, declared that she had played by far her best match thus far on the Riviera.

In the women's doubles this morning Miss Wills and Miss Ellen Bennett won from Miss Emily Wright and Mrs. R. E. Haylock.

Stars Shake Hands After Match, Neither Looking at Other. By the Associated Press.

NICE, Feb. 8.—Suzanne Lenglen thinks Helen Wills is a great tennis player, and Miss Wills thinks Suzanne is a great champion. These expressions of opinion were obtained from both the young women after they had met yesterday for the first time across the net.

"The first three games of the first set were the fastest and most hotly contested I ever played," declared Miss Lenglen. "Miss Wills is really a great player."

"It was a very enjoyable match," said the California girl. "Miss Lenglen is a great champion."

These words, however, seemed in contrast with the cool handshakes after the mixed doubles match was over. Miss Lenglen and Miss Wills reached over the net with what seemed to be a perfunctory handshake, neither looking at the other.

Charles F. Aeschlimann, Swiss resident of France and Miss Wills' teammate, was profuse in his praise of his partner's play. "Helen is too modest," he said. "She played one of the greatest games of her career. Mark my words, she will be an unbeatable doubles champion when she returns to America."

Under the law of Delaware, felonious assault carries with it the death penalty. Butler was sentenced to be hanged on Feb. 26 at Georgetown. After the excitement of the team bombing had subsided, the crowd appeared to grow more dense, and as it was found to be pressing in on the courthouse, new warnings were given by the troops, who withdrew some of the machine guns from some parts of the courthouse and trained them on the crowd in an effort to hold it off in this manner.

A crowd of men from Baltimore Hundred were heard to be indulging in incendiary talks, making threats to wreck the courthouse if the prisoner was not delivered to them before midnight. State police dispersed the Baltimore Hundred group and threatened arrests if the talk continued.

The soldiers were on duty as the result of a proclamation issued last week by Gov. Robinson when threats of lynching were made against Butler.

RADIO SIGNALS FOR POLICE IN AUTOS IN MAPLEWOOD

Chief Caldwell to Talk From His Office to Men, Wherever They Are.

Radio installations in each of the six police automobiles of Maplewood in two weeks will enable Chief Caldwell to talk to his men, wherever they are, from his office in the Maplewood police station, the chief announced today.

But, he remarked, since the automobiles will have receivers only, the men won't be able to talk back to him.

The police station is to be connected by wire with the licensed sending station of Charles E. Harrison, an electrical engineer, 7561 Ellis avenue. The flash of a signal light, on the dashboard will warn policemen to clap the receivers on their heads for the chief's message.

Stars Shake Hands After Match, Neither Looking at Other. By the Associated Press.

NICE, Feb. 8.—Suzanne Lenglen thinks Helen Wills is a great tennis player, and Miss Wills thinks Suzanne is a great champion. These expressions of opinion were obtained from both the young women after they had met yesterday for the first time across the net.

"The first three games of the first set were the fastest and most hotly contested I ever played," declared Miss Lenglen. "Miss Wills is really a great player."

"It was a very enjoyable match," said the California girl. "Miss Lenglen is a great champion."

These words, however, seemed in contrast with the cool handshakes after the mixed doubles match was over. Miss Lenglen and Miss Wills reached over the net with what seemed to be a perfunctory handshake, neither looking at the other.

Charles F. Aeschlimann, Swiss resident of France and Miss Wills' teammate, was profuse in his praise of his partner's play. "Helen is too modest," he said. "She played one of the greatest games of her career. Mark my words, she will be an unbeatable doubles champion when she returns to America."

Under the law of Delaware, felonious assault carries with it the death penalty. Butler was sentenced to be hanged on Feb. 26 at Georgetown. After the excitement of the team bombing had subsided, the crowd appeared to grow more dense, and as it was found to be pressing in on the courthouse, new warnings were given by the troops, who withdrew some of the machine guns from some parts of the courthouse and trained them on the crowd in an effort to hold it off in this manner.

A crowd of men from Baltimore Hundred were heard to be indulging in incendiary talks, making threats to wreck the courthouse if the prisoner was not delivered to them before midnight. State police dispersed the Baltimore Hundred group and threatened arrests if the talk continued.

The soldiers were on duty as the result of a proclamation issued last week by Gov. Robinson when threats of lynching were made against Butler.

GAS ROUTS CROWD RUSHING COURTHOUSE

Men Trying to Get Into Trial of Negro Breaks Down Barbed Wire Fence.

By the Associated Press. GEORGETOWN, Del., Feb. 8.—Determined to get into the courthouse here for the afternoon session of the trial of Harry Butler, Negro, charged with an attack on Eleanor Steinmetz, a 10-year-old white girl of Bridgeville on Jan. 21, 2000 persons, mostly men, made a rush in an effort to storm the building this afternoon.

The crowd was breaking down the barbed wire fence, protecting the building, when efforts at pacification failed, the rush was resisted with tear bombs, thrown by the soldiers from the courthouse. Capt. Fred Marvel of Laurel, Adjutant at the military headquarters here, talked to the crowd, telling them that all who could be admitted would be allowed in at the proper time. He begged them to stand back. Similar action was taken by Maj. S. B. Duncan, the commanding officer.

The requests were unheeded. Soldiers then donned gas masks and hurled tear bombs from the upper windows of the courthouse. Twenty or 30 bombs were thrown. The crowd scattered quickly, some persons being slightly injured in the rush. After the fumes had passed off the crowd was back at the wire again, but a little less emphatic, hoping for a chance to get in the building and hear the trial.

Butler was convicted by a jury this afternoon after it deliberated eight minutes.

Under the law of Delaware, felonious assault carries with it the death penalty.

Butler was sentenced to be hanged on Feb. 26 at Georgetown. on Call—Personal and Church
Effects Found.KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 8.—
After going on what police believe to be a decoy telephone call summoning him to administer the last rites of his faith to the dying, Father Francis E. Hagerdorn, 23 years old, assistant pastor of the Immaculate Conception Cathedral, Eleventh street and Broadway, disappeared and police believe he may have been slain and robbed.The young priest left the rectory, which adjoins the cathedral, at 7 o'clock Saturday night, telling the Rev. James A. McCaffery and the Rev. Cornelius O. McCarthy, also assistant pastors, he was going on a sick call on Madison avenue.When he did not return search for him was instituted by police, private detectives and church men.
About 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon his purse, containing only a notification card asking that his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Hager-dorn, Pierce City, Mo., and Bishop Thomas F. Lillis be notified in case of accident, was found near an alley north of the cathedral. A short time later the missing priest's prayer books and church case, containing ritualistic equipment, also were found in the alley.Following the finding of Father Hagerdorn's effects, police conducted a search of all vacant lots, wood patches and buildings in the vicinity. Father Hagerdorn may be suffering from a mental derangement. Friends say he was of a highly nervous temperament.Father Hagerdorn came to Kansas City 18 months ago after completing a post graduate course in the Catholic University, Washington.Bishop Lillis is taking personal interest in the search, conferring with detectives and churchmen

Piles Go Quick

Without Salves or Cutting

Thousands who have piles have not learned that quick and permanent relief can only be accomplished with external medicine. Neither cutting nor any amount of treatment with ointments and suppositories will remove the cause.

Bad circulation causes piles. There is a complete stagnation of blood in the lower bowel and a weakening of the parts. Dr. J. S. Leonard has been successful in 1000 cases, with the marvellous second of success in 100 per cent and then decided it should be sold by druggists everywhere under a rapid money-back guarantee.

Don't waste any more time with outside applications. Get a package of M-K Piles today. It is safe and lasting relief to thousands and will do the same for you.

Don't Let That Cold Turn Into "Flu"

That cold may turn into "Flu," Grippe or, even worse, Pneumonia, unless you take care of it at once.

Rob Musterole on the congested parts and see how quickly it brings relief.

Musterole, made from pure oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other simple ingredients, is a counter-irritant which stimulates circulation and helps break up the cold.

As effective as the money old mustard plaster, does the work without blister.

Put it on with your finger. You will feel a warm tingle as it enters the pores, then a cooling sensation that brings welcome relief.

BOY, 16, KILLED WHEN STRUCK BY AN AUTO

Herbert L. Payne Dashed From Front of Wagon Into Path, Driver Says.

Herbert L. Payne, 16 years old, of 5438A Southwest avenue, was killed at noon today when struck by an automobile on Eighteenth street, just north of Chouteau avenue.

Employed as a clerk in the drug store of Charles J. Wachtel at Eighteenth and Chouteau, he was returning to the store from a luncheon across the street when struck by the touring car of Herbert C. Kiesel, 28, a mechanic, of Sappington. Kiesel said Payne ran from the luncheon in front of a coal wagon and was hit by the right fender of his car as he was passing the coal wagon. Payne died of skull fracture and other injuries shortly after reaching city hospital. His death is the twenty-third motor vehicle fatality of the year, compared with 19 last year.

Man Hurt by Auto Truck Jan. 9 Dies of Injuries.

Injuries caused by a truck of this company, Jan. 9, caused the death at Jewish Hospital yesterday of Adolph Rothschild, 55 years old, a foreman at the Straus Co., 2655 Locust boulevard.

Rothschild had been adjusting the radiator cover of an undertaker's hearse at the Beaumont street loading platform of the company. A Straus company truck, operated by Steve Martin, 37, a Negro, of 724 North Compton avenue, stood several feet in front of the hearse.

Martin backed it, preparatory to pulling away from the platform, and Rothschild was crushed between the two cars.

Taken to City Hospital at first, Rothschild was found to have suffered internal and spine injuries and several fractured ribs. He was a widower, residing at 1320 Goodfellow avenue. A coroner's verdict of accident was returned today.

Driver of Auto Flees After Striking Man; Other Accidents.

The police are seeking a Ford sedan with broken headlights which sped north in Broadway last night without a tire on the left rear wheel. The lamps were shattered when the car struck Jacob Hoerner, 32 years old, of 203 Bowler street, as he was crossing Broadway near Koehn street.

Hoerner was taken to city hospital, suffering from a skull fracture, abrasions and lacerations of the face, injury to the left hip and alcoholism. The driver of the sedan fled feloniously and two witnesses, who told about the headlights and tire, were unable to see the license number.

Mrs. Wilhelmina Schultz, 59, a widow, of 1766 South Seventh boulevard, crossing Twelfth street at Hickory street, yesterday afternoon, was knocked down by the machine of Owen Baker, a Negro, of 1012 High street. Other motorists took her to city hospital. Her skull was fractured, scalp lacerated and left hip injured. Baker, surrendering to the police later, said he had sounded his horn and Mrs. Schultz stopped but started in front of him again. The persons who took her to the hospital told him to follow, he said, but he could get no information there and went home.

Driving north in Thirteenth street, Miss Helen Biehle, 18, of 2315 North Thirteenth street, struck Mary Triola, 8, of 1227 North Thirteenth street, in front of the girl's home. Mary, who suffered a skull fracture, had run from a passenger-way behind a parked car and into the street.

Gottlieb Eisenhart, 39, of 3950 South Main street, crossing the street in front of 3552 South Broadway, was hit by the car of Ferrie Heller of 3925 Missouri ave.

Eisenhart's skull was fractured.

The automobile of Samuel Abbruzzo, of 1603 Division street and a Ford touring car, which was on the wrong side of the street, collided in West Florissant avenue at Geraldine avenue and were damaged badly. The Ford driver fled on foot, leaving behind about two gallons of moonshine whisky in his machine. Car and whisky were seized.

"My baby had eczema for about eight months. He suffered day and night with a red, itchy skin, and was very cross and fretful. We had to keep his hands tied for about five months to keep him from scratching."

"I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and purchased some, and after using three boxes of Cuticura Soap, together with the Cuticura Ointment, he was completely healed, in about six weeks." (Signed) Mrs. Andrew Mortensen, Green Bay Ave., Denmark, Wis., June 3, 1925.

TWO HELD IN MYSTERY OF PANCHO VILLA HEAD

American Soldier of Fortune
Mexican in Custody—Skull Still Missing.

By the Associated Press.
PARRAL, Mexico, Feb. 8.—The headless body of Francisco (Pancho) Villa, notorious bandit and rebel chieftain, whose cement sepulcher was torn open by ghouls Friday night, may be the silent accuser of Emil Haimdahl, American soldier of fortune, and a Mexican, Alberto Corral. Haimdahl, who is reputed to have been a guide for Gen. Pershing's expedition into Mexico in chase of Villa, and Corral are in jail here while authorities are trying to learn what was done with Villa's head, which the grave robbers cut off.

No satisfactory explanation has been given for the decapitation, although a note left with the body said the head was to be sent to Columbus, N. M., scene of the bandit raid in 1916 that resulted in the American Punitive Expedition. Many here believe the head was filched from the tomb for surreptitious sale to some institution for scientific study.

Investigators have taken their lead from a reported inquiry recently by an American as to the exact location of Villa's grave, which was pointed out by the cemetery caretaker. Conditions about the grave offered small aid to solution of the mystery, except that it must have taken a number of strong men to dislodge the weighty concrete covering slab. Liquor bottles and corks smelling of pungent chemicals found near the grave puzzle the authorities. The body was left partly exposed to view, apparently having been moved only enough for the decapitators to do their work.

Villa was buried here in 1923 following his death at the hands of some of his disgruntled henchmen.

THREE PHYSICIANS SLAIN BY PATIENT, WHO KILLS SELF

Russian Workman Shoots Prominent Moscow Doctors When He Fails to Obtain a Cure.

By the Associated Press.
MOSCOW, Feb. 8.—Three prominent physicians have been shot to death by a patient who had failed to obtain a cure at their hands and who later committed suicide. The victims were Dr. Namm Maizel, Dr. Moses Melcharski and Dr. Emil Hirschfeld. Their assailant was Stepan Logachoff, a workman, who for some time had been taking treatment for a serious nervous disorder at Dr. Hirschfeld's hospital, at which the shooting occurred.

When Logachoff went there he was questioned about his condition by Maizel, but replied that he had not improved. At this point Maizel left the room to consult with a colleague. The patient followed him and shot the physician in the head.

ACQUITTED OF MURDER ON UNWRITTEN LAW PLEA

By the Associated Press.
MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 8.—Mrs. James F. Farmer was acquitted late Saturday of murder. She killed Mrs. Mary Lee Scott.

Mrs. Farmer, reconciled with her husband, whose relations with Mrs. Scott, a divorcee, led to the killing in Mrs. Scott's apartment, is at home with her family.

Following his wife's acquittal, Farmer issued a statement urging men “to stay at home and keep your troubles with you there.” Self-defense and “the unwritten law” were Mrs. Farmer's defense.

WORLD HAS 25,973,928 AUTOS 1925 INCREASE OF 3,273,000

U. S. Predominates Overwhelmingly With 10,999,436; Only One Machine in Tibet.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—The world had 25,973,928 automotive vehicles in operation on Jan. 1.

Commerce Department figures, compiled as a result of a world-wide census, disclosed that this total is 3,273,000 in excess of that for a year before.

While the United States predominated overwhelmingly in automotive vehicles in operation with 10,999,436, other countries were becoming more important factors. Great Britain had 1,474,573 machines; France, 855,600; Canada, 727,594; Germany, 529,830; Italy, 184,700; Argentina, 181,250; Brazil, 64,970, and Russia, 18,500.

Apparently the country where the automobile is least desired is Tibet, for the search disclosed only one machine there, a motor cycle.

The Jan. 1 total for passenger cars alone was 20,799,151, against 18,678,730 the previous year.

LECCE AND MISS WAGNER SOLOISTS AT POP CONCERT

Former Demonstrates Resources of French Horn by the Mount Numbers.

The resources of the French horn—one of the most difficult of all instruments—were demonstrated by Pellegrino Lecce, who played two movements of Mozart's concerto in E flat, with charming ease and purity of tone, at yesterday's popular concert of the Symphony Orchestra, at the Odeon. As an extra, Lecce, who is a member of the orchestra, played a romanza from another of Mozart's four concertos for horn, with Director Ganz at the piano.

The other soloist was Miss Edna Wagner, St. Louis soprano, who sang the aria, "Plus grand dans son obscurité," from Gounod's "The Queen of Sheba," and, for encore, a "Pastorale" composed by Kirk Frederick of the orchestra's first violins. Another feature was the playing of Max Steindel, cellist, in the Berceuse from "Jocelyn," given as an extra by the orchestra. The audience, slightly larger than that of the Sunday before, did not exceed 1500 persons.

PROPOSES 10,000 MORE POLICE

Special to the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Plans to give New York the largest police force in the world are under consideration by Police Commissioner McLaughlin. Tentative suggestions before the commissioner are that he ask the Board of Estimate to add at least 10,000 men to the present personnel of between 14,000 and 15,000.

London at present has the largest force of any city, but the increase under consideration here would give this city 4000 more policemen than has the British metropolis.

GERMANY WORRY
BY MUSSOLINI
HOSTILE SPEECH

Utterances of Italian
miser Considered Strong Since War Toward Friendly Nation.

GOVERNMENT TRYING TO CALM PUBLIC

Italian Politicians Reply
Speech of Mussolini
Almost Equivalent
Declaration of War.

BERLIN, Feb. 8.—There is a perturbation and no little ill-feeling in Germany over the speech delivered Saturday afternoon in Chamber of Deputies by Premier Mussolini with regard to an anti-Italian campaign alleged to have been propagated by Germany in the Upper Adige.

Although the German Government has made no reply, the receipt of the text of the speech of Mussolini is considered the strongest statement since the war country with which his country at peace.

Mussolini's address is regarded as having been occasioned by a speech of Dr. Held, the Bavarian Premier, who all good Germans to help their low countrymen in Southern Tyrol which was awarded to Italy by Treaty of St. Germain.

Mussolini Threat Particular attention is being paid to Mussolini's threat, after declaring the alleged German Italian campaign as "inferior deception and lying," that "so times it is necessary to pay two eyes for the loss of one,
with a whole set of teeth for loss of one tooth."

His remarks that "Fascist Italy is necessary, carry further and its tri-color, but never is regarded in some quarters as a direct threat that the may move further into Austria territory, if such a step should be considered necessary." Mussolini the time was referring to the Italian position at the Brenner pass, which is the shortest route from Germany into Italy.

The perturbation here has increased by the receipt of a document from the Italian newspapers, some of which assert that Mussolini's words were almost equivalent to a declaration of war against Germany.

A move to recall the Italian Ambassador is interpreted locally as an expression of Italy's distrust of Germany and Mussolini's challenge is viewed as an inauspicious omen for Germany's entry into League of Nations.

Trying to Calm Public.
The local Government is inclined to disapprove of independent interpretation of foreign affairs by the press and the individual whereby nothing is attained the Federal Government is embarrassed.

In the past week the question German-Italian relations was discussed by the Foreign Committee, and the Government had requested the co-operation of the press in putting the public sentiment against Italy.
It was feared that the existing tensions of interests between Italy and other countries might be thereby set at the expense of Germany.

Berlin Press Comment.
The consternation of the newspapers upon receipt of reports from Mussolini's speech delivered in the Monday morning session, which publish the full text of the speech, says the Montagpost, is the receipt of the speech here
due to the fact that Mussolini personally corrected the stenographic reports so that the published text does not represent a spontaneous outburst but a premeditated demonstration in response to a pre-arranged interpretation.

The paper demands that Mussolini's speech be Mussolini's speech be Mussolini's speech be

Der Montagpost, pointing out that Mussolini never adopted a tone of "Mussolini's speech is evidently greater than political considerations."

Official quarters continue to state that the text of the speech will not be as harsh as the translation.

when he appeared before them as a witness on Jan. 26 and 27 of this year.

"There is no doubt that if the military committee reports favorably upon such a reorganization to the House, it will have a decided effect upon that body when the bill comes to a vote. For the past year much work has been done in an endeavor to educate Congress along general aviation lines and impress upon them the actual power of an air force.

"We have tried to put across the idea of reorganization in which the air service can be developed and operated so that it will be able to give its maximum efficiency and effectiveness.

Time to Get Busy.

"This educational work is as much yours as it is ours and now is the psychological moment for you to get busy. There is more interest in aviation throughout the United States now than we can hope to attain again for many years to come so that there will never be a better opportunity than right now to try and get recognition commensurate with our actual offensive power in the scheme of national defense.

"There are two Senators from your State and a Representative from your district. Also you must know people of prominence in your State who can communicate with the Senators and Representatives whose communication will be given more than casual consideration. It is to your interest that you get in touch with these people as your future in the service will depend largely upon legislation in this session of Congress. Get them to back the organization of the air service along the lines as outlined here, with so that their Senators and Representatives in Washington will know what the folks back home want.

"This is your party as much as it is ours. We are relying on you to do your share of this work. Do not throw us down."

Representative Drafts Bill for National Defense Department.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Still another measure dealing with reorganization of the military establishment—this one proposing to carry out the recommendations of the Lassiter Board for an expansion of the air force and creation of a department of national defense—has been drafted for introduction in the House by Representative James (Rep.) of Michigan, a member of the Military Committee.

The bill will be considered by the committee along with several others proposing to turn a single defense department, an independent air corps or merely increased air activities under the present organization. The James bill would establish in the Department of National Defense four undersecretaries—for army, navy, air and supply. The department would have one procurement bureau for purchasing supplies for the various services. Another provision is designed to prohibit the Government from competing with private industry in aircraft construction. Inventors would have additional safeguards for their patents.

In a statement James explained that his reason for introducing the bill was to "leave before the committee the recommendations of this special Congressional Committee, who made such an exhaustive and comprehensive study of the aircraft situation."

LABOR CHIEF FAVORS BILL TO INCREASE JUDGES' PAY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—In endorsement of proposals to increase the pay of Federal Judges is voiced for organized labor by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, in a letter to Chairman Graham of the House Judiciary Committee.

"Manifestly," the letter, made public last night, said, "the salary of the Federal Judges in this democratic country must be large enough in the interest of equal justice for all our people to enable the lawyer of commanding ability, but of modest means, to enter cheerfully upon a lifetime of service on the Federal bench."

It added that Graham's pending

bill to increase judicial salaries made provision "no more than adequate" in that regard.

K. OF C. GUEST HERE

W. E. Dever Discusses Common Needs of the Two Cities in Preparing for Expansion

Mayor William E. Dever of Chicago, in St. Louis today a guest of the Knights of Columbus, commented upon the general trend of public improvements in municipalities, and said he believed that each dollar now being expended in public works would ultimately return $5 in increased values to property owners who had the assessments.

The Chicago chief executive spoke extemporaneously at noon today before a joint meeting of the T. C. Club, the Chamber of Commerce and the Chamber of Commerce at the Chamber of Commerce auditorium. He discussed the common needs of the two cities in preparing for expansion.

"Business interests seem to me that this is the time for comprehensive improvements," Mayor Dever said. "They lend full approval to such programs and believe the return in increased values will be material."

"In Chicago we are completing two-level highway on South Wacker street from Michigan boulevard to Madison avenue, a distance of more than a half mile. It will relieve the congestion 45 per cent. It will cost $2,000,000 and care for the vehicular traffic on the second level, with heavy hauling restricted to the first level."

"The city is participating with railroads in a new alignment of the main line, which will cost $3,000,000. The city will pay $1,500,000. The new market, erected at a cost of $17,000,000, consists of units of three stories each. Further plans which are part of a $150,000,000 drainage project, makes plenty of money but the improvements are necessary."

Wants Tip on Tax Rate.

"By the way," he said, "I recently where St. Louis had the second lowest tax rate in the country for large cities. I'll get a tip on how it's done."

The Chicago executive is a well-built man of forceful personality, with ruddy face, clear eyes, and white hair. The exacting demands of politics for 15 years have taken no toll in impairing his vigor.

Mayor Dever and his party called Mayor Miller at City Hall 9:30 a. m. and they discussed problems of government with regard to the tax problem. Dever expressed surprise that St. Louis was only $2.57 per $1 valuation and said Chicago's was nearly twice that. When information at assessments were arrived at, Dever said that in Chicago it was $5.00 per $1 valuation, but that in Chicago it was $2.57 per $1 valuation, depending on the owner's source.

Bond Issues Discussed.

Surprise was expressed by Mayor Miller when Mayor Dever told him that most improvements in the past were made from municipal revenues and not from bond issues. Mayor Miller said that the city bonded debt about $115,000,000.

Dever will be honor guest at dinner at Hotel Chase at 6 p. m.

MAYOR OF CHICAGO K. OF C. GUEST HERE

W. E. Dever Discusses Common Needs of the Two Cities
in Preparing for Expansion.

Mayor William E. Dever of Chicago, in St. Louis today as the guest of the Knights of Columbus, commented upon the general trend of public improvements by large municipalities, and said he believed that each dollar now being expended in public works would ultimately return $5 in increased values to property owners who bear the assessments.

The Chicago chief executive spoke extemporaneously at noon today before a joint meeting of the Traffic Club, the Chamber of Commerce and members of the Knights of Columbus at the Chamber of Commerce auditorium. He discussed the common needs of the two cities
in preparing for expansion.

View of Public Improvements.
"Business interests seem to feel that this is the time for comprehensive improvements," Mayor Dever said. "They lend full approval to such programs and I believe the return in increased values will be material."

"In Chicago we are completing two-level highway on South Washington street from Michigan boulevard to Madison avenue, a distance of more than a half mile, which we hope will relieve the loop congestion 42 per cent. It will cost $22,000,000 and care for light vehicular traffic on the second deck, with heavy hauling restricted to the first level."

The city is participating with railroads in a new alignment of terminals costing $9,000,000, of which the city will pay $1,500,000.
The new market, erected at a cost of $17,000,000, consists of six units of three stories each. Further plans contemplate a $50,000,000 filling plant which is part of a $150,000,000 drainage project. It takes plenty of money but the improvements are necessary.

Wants Tip on Tax Rate.
"By the way," he said, "I read recently where St. Louis had about the second lowest tax rate in the country for large cities. I'll have a tip on how it's done."

The Chicago executive is a tall, well-built man, of forceful personality, with ruddy face, clear blue eyes, and white hair. The exacting demands of politics for long years have taken no toll in impairing his vigor.

Mayor Dever and his party called on Mayor Miller at City Hall at 10:30 a. m. and they discussed the problems of government with specific regard to the tax problem.

Dever expressed surprise that the rate was only $2.57 per $100 valuation and said Chicago's was nearly twice that. When informed that assessments were arrived at on basis of approximately 75 per cent of full valuation, Mayor Dever said that in Chicago it was presumed to be at 50 per cent but in reality ranged from 12 to 40 per cent, depending on the owner's influence.

Bond Issues Discussed.
Surprise was expressed by the Chicago Mayor when Mayor Miller told him that most improvements were in the past were made from municipal revenues and not from bond issues. Mayor Miller said that the city bonded debt was about $15,000,000.

Dever will be honor guest at a dinner at Hotel Chase at 6 p. m.

Port Under Own Sail.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Eighteen men were rescued from the tug Wellington by the tanker Ardmore, following a collision between the two craft off the New Jersey coast Friday night, when the Wellington sank, it became known today.

The collision occurred during the storm that harried shipping in the Atlantic throughout last week.
Towing the barges Southland and Tottenham, both empty, the Wellington was found from New York for Eastport, Fla., when it collided with the Ardmore from Tampico for New York. Capt. M. C. Partridge of the Wellington, was injured. He and his crew were rescued and brought to New York.

The barges were cut loose after the collision and made Red Hook N. J., under their own sail.

The collision occurred about six miles northeast of the Brigantine Shoals.

Easy Washer

HAVE you ever wished for a servant to do your washing—one that will get the clothes spotlessly clean, wash the dainty pieces as carefully as your own hands, and relieve you of all labor except supervising the job? Here is such a servant, and what is more, one you can afford. Its name is the Easy Washer.

YOU can put an Easy in your home for about the price of a good pair of shoes. And once in your home the rest of the purchase price is no burden, for you pay it as you use the machine.

Free home trial demonstration

As a matter of fact, until you have used the machine, tried it out in your home, and satisfied yourself that it is the economical, dependable kind of servant you want, you need not pay one penny. We will gladly send an Easy and a demonstrator to your home on your regular washday—without the slightest charge or any obligation. If, after doing the washing, you still decide to get along a while longer without an Easy, the machine comes out as cheerfully as it goes in.

Gentle as human hands

An Easy washes everything from a silk vest to a rag rug, and does it thoroughly. What is more, it handles the delicate, dainty pieces as gently as your own hands. There is nothing inside the Easy's big solid copper tub to produce friction or to wear out the clothes.

A tubful of clothes in the Easy consists of ten single sheets or its equivalent, and takes only a few minutes to wash.

Saves time, labor and temper

Before you know it you can have the entire wash on the line, for the wringing is done electrically too. You can wring one batch of clothes through the rinse and blue water at the same time another batch is washing. A gas heater beneath the Easy keeps the water at a constant even heat. With the Easy there are no belts or exposed moving parts. There is no noise, vibration or slopping of water. And best of all, at the day's end there is no aching back, frayed temper or pair of unsightly hands to mark the close of another washday.

Don't delay longer in having a Home Trial Demonstration of the Easy—at our expense. Write us today for an appointment, or phone any Easy dealer.

SUIT TO ENJOIN SALE OF 2000 MISSOURI STATE LIFE SHARES

South Side Trust Co. Takes Action to Collect $15,000 Note of John L. Johnston.

A suit to enjoin the sale of 200 shares of stock of the Missouri State Life Insurance Co., held jointly by John L. Johnston, former president of the Liberty Central Trust Co. and Charles A.
Lemp, until a $15,000 note of Johnston is paid, was filed today
by the South Side Trust Co.

The stock is deposited with the Mississippi Valley Trust Co. as security for another loan, the petition states, and the suit is directed also against that company, to enjoin it from permitting removal of the stock. A temporary restraining order, returnable Thursday, was issued by Judge Ittner.

The South Side Trust Co. alleges that March 2 last, John T.
M. Johnston, the banker's father, a former Baptist minister, delivered a note to the South Side Co.
whereby J. T. M. Johnston, by J.
L. Johnston, promised to pay $15-000 on demand, and interest payments were to be made monthly.
Interest was paid until June 30, it is stated, and no payment has been made since then. The South Side Trust Co. says it has learned that J. L. Johnston and Lemp have negotiated the sale of their Missouri
State Life stock at $75 a share, or $150,000. Johnston's equity in the proceeds would be sufficient to meet his note, the trust company states, and it asks that the sale be restrained until the note has been satisfied.

J. L. Johnston is said to be in New York.

FOR Sour Stomach PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia

Hereafter instead of soda take a little "Phillips' Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

BETTER THAN SODA
For fifty years genuine "Phillips' Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. Besides, it neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges this souring waste from the system without purging. It is far more pleasant to take than soda.

INTERNATIONAL-GREAT NORTHERN

The Missouri Pacific Lines Offer Helpful Service to Citizens and Communities

PRODUCING railroad transportation—freight and passenger—is the business of the Missouri Pacific Lines. And every effort is being made to the end that our service will be adequate, satisfactory and dependable.

In addition to that, it is the desire of the Missouri Pacific Lines to be helpful to the communities served by these lines in every other possible way. For that reason there is maintained by the Missouri Pacific a number of service bureaus which are in addition to those organizations that have to do directly with the handling of freight and passengers.

Chief among these are the Agricultural Development Bureau and the Industrial Development Department. Each is manned by experts, whose personal services are at the disposal of any community served by the Missouri Pacific Lines.

The Industrial Development Department of the Missouri Pacific Lines last year was helpful in locating in communities served by these lines 732 new industrial enterprises of various kinds with aggregate capital investment of $22,702,350. It is estimated that these new industries will require for the conduct of their business this year in excess of 250,000 carloads of freight. All this helps the Missouri Pacific Lines, of course, but it also is of tremendous benefit to the communities in which these industries have been located.

The Agricultural Development Department of these Lines has been instrumental in bringing additional prosperity to thousands of farmers in the territory served by the Missouri Pacific. Farmers have been assisted to work out successfully numerous projects which include the development of acreage of additional cash crops.

We conceive it to be our duty and our mission to lend assistance of this kind whenever and wherever we can. The Missouri Pacific Lines probably have been the most potent factor in the development of the West, South and Southwest served by these Lines since 1851. However, the work has only just begun. It must be carried on. With the aggressive assistance and co-operation of citizens and communities served by the Missouri Pacific, we hope to continue to play an important part in the continued development.

The services of any of the special development departments of the Missouri Pacific Lines are to be had for the asking. Regardless of the problem, there probably is someone in the Missouri Pacific organization that can be helpful. Requests for the assistance of these men all receive prompt and personal attention. We are anxious for further opportunities to be of service in any way that we can.

I solicit your co-operation and suggestions.

WARRANTS DISMISSED IN $57,600 WRESTLING SWindle

Jack Fisher, Lightweight Champion and Two Other Men Freed of Charges in East St. Louis.

There will be no prosecution in Illinois of the persons charged with conspiracy to defraud in connection with a $57,600 wrestling match. Warrants making that charge had been issued against Jack Fisher, champion lightweight wrestler, W. G. Woods and Jess Ripley, but were dismissed today by Assistant State's Attorney Robert Roberts before Justice of the Peace Driscoll.

Lack of evidence and the non-appearance of the complainant, J. G. Berryhill, wealthy Oklahoma Indian, were the reasons for the dismissal. Four continuances had been taken because of Berryhill's absence.

Instead of staying in East St. Louis to prosecute, Berryhill went back to Oklahoma and swore out warrants against Fisher, Woods and Ripley. They furnished $2500 bonds and will resist extradition.

The $57,600 had been posted with Fisher at the Arnold Hotel in East St. Louis. Fisher reported he was held up and robbed of the money, half of which was Berryhill's.

WITNESS WHO SENT 3 MEN TO DEATH NOW DENIES STORY

Nicholas (Cheeks) Luciano Admits Perjury Against Diamond Brothers and John Farina.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Nicholas (Cheeks) Luciano of Bayonne, N. J., today pleaded guilty to a charge of perjury in testimony he gave at the trials of Morris and Joseph Diamond and John Farina, who recently were executed for murdering two bank messengers in a hold-up in Brooklyn in 1924. Anthony J. Pantano, also was convicted and is under sentence to be electrocuted during the week of March 8. The Diamond brothers declared they were innocent to the last.

Luciano, one of the State's most important witnesses, testified against all the men. After they were convicted he is alleged to have recanted. Today he withdrew plea of not guilty and entered a plea of guilty just as his trial was about to start. He will be sentenced next Monday.

Joseph Barlow and William McLaughlin, messengers for the West End Bank, were shot by four men as they stepped from an elevated train. The quartet of robbers escaped with $43,000.

CHAUFFEUR, WHO STOLE AUTO, PICKED UP A BRIDE IN FLIGHT

Ben Altwerger, Arrested Here, Married Indiana Girl After Giving Her a "Tail."

Detectives stopped Ben Altwerger, 23 years old, to inspect the automobile with a Michigan license in which he and his bride were riding over the McKinley Bridge into St. Louis. Altwerger moved a suitcase to cover a pair of extra license plates, and was arrested.

Altwerger admitted stealing the car a week ago from a friend employed with him as chauffeur for a cleaning works in Detroit. Thursday, he said, he lost his way west of Elkhart, Ind., asked a direction of a young woman, learned she was walking to her home, offered her a ride, kept on past her home and married her next day at Muncie, Ill., a Justice of the Peace performing the ceremony.

Suspended Dry Agent Reinstated. Carol Byrd, prohibition agent suspended last month on complaint of a waitress in a Meramec River resort, has been reinstated by Prohibition Administrator Brewer of this district. Byrd was acquitted of an attempted assault charge at a preliminary hearing. The young woman's complaint followed a liquor search by Byrd in the resort where she is employed.

IF RHEUMATIC BEGIN ON SALTS

Says We Must Keep Feet Dry, Avoid Exposure, Eat No Sweets.

Stay off the damp ground, avoid exposure, keep feet dry, eat no sweets of any kind for a while, drink lots of water and above all take a spoonful of Jad Salts occasionally to help keep down uric and toxic acids.

Rheumatism is caused by poison toxins, called acids, which are generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood. The pores of the skin are a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work; they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this poison, which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain, called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four spoonfuls of Jad Salts; put a table-spoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is helpful to neutralize acidity, remove body waste also to stimulate the kidneys, thus helping to rid the blood of these rheumatic poisons.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism.

Guests comment upon its home-made flavor

A GREAT chef, when asked to what he most attributed the success of his meals, once said, "to the fact that I use liberal quantities of fresh milk and good butter in the cooking and that I am most particular that the bread I serve be possessed of that rich, creamy, home-made taste."

This is but repetition of what every modern housewife knows
—and but repetition of what Kroger knows.

That is why we have adopted your methods—home-made methods—in our bakery.

That is why we use the same fine ingredients that you yourself would choose. That is why we add to each mix an extra quantity of pure, rich milk, to give the finished loaf creaminess, texture, wholesomeness and home-made flavor.

ADVERTISMENT

BE QUICK TO STOP THAT COLD

If you act immediately you can stop nine colds in ten. Millions do it with hot lemonade. But they "get" them at the start—when they first suspect a cold. And colds always warn you so you have the chance.

Take the drink at the first sign, then cover warm in bed. All traces in the morning usually have disappeared.

Try it and you too will always use this method. Get a dozen lemons now, to be prepared.

Just squeeze the juice of a lemon in a glass or cup of hot water. The effectiveness of hot lemonade is due to more than its heat. Add sugar if you wish.

Ask for California lemons, the tart, juicy, practically seedless kind. They make the most effective lemonade for colds.

AUTO COMPANY STOCK MADE EMPLOYEES RICH

Investment of $1000 in Nash Shares in 1916 Now Worth Nearly $40,000.

(Overnight, 1926)

KENOSHA, Wis., Feb. 8.—The boom on the New York Stock Exchange has been reflected on this Wisconsin city by the appearance of a real gold coast—a street of fine homes peopled by the recently rich.

The local burst of prosperity is resulting from Wall Street's eager interest in the tremendous earnings of the Nash Motors Co. It has struck nearly 1000 stockholder employees with a reality that gives them reason to think that someone used the magic of a modern Aladdin's lamp for their benefit.

For first came a run-up in the value of the stock mounting into the hundreds of points. This was followed recently by a 900 per cent dividend, and now by a further jump in the value of the stock until it has touched $40 a share.

An employee who invested $1000 in stock of the company when it was organized in 1916 would now have a fortune of nearly $40,000.

A gold coast for Kenosha has followed naturally and the beautiful homes built and building along Durkee avenue are testimony to the reality of this magic of industry.

Charles W. Nash, president of the company, is concerned because even a larger number of employees haven't been in on the stock melon. The bank which handled the financing when the company was formed sold the stock quickly before a general plan of stock ownership could be carried out.

Nash urged employees to buy years ago when the stock was selling at $80 a share. The stock last year had been bought under $200 a share. Now at $40 on top of a tremendous dividend, it is almost out of reach of purchasers. Earnings last year were at the rate of $87.50 a share, with net profits over $18,000,000.

"I am pleased that employees were able to share in the stock rise which the eagerness of outsiders to hold, brought about," Nash said. "There was no manipulation in the stock rise which made possible the big earnings of stockholders. In fact, I have tried to prevent the spectacular soaring, but was unable."

VESPER ONLY ST. LOUIS SURVIVOR IN NATIONAL SOCCER RACE

Ben Millers Eliminated At Cleveland; Raticans Are Outclassed, 6 to 2

Joe Hand Leads in Victorious Attack of McCarthy's Eleven — Vespers to Meet Clan MacKenzie's of a Chicago Team in Next Round.

By Dent McKimming

As a result of two second round games yesterday, only one St. Louis club remains in the national soccer cup championship competition, the Vespers through their 6 to 2 victory over the Raticans advancing to the third round. At Cleveland, the Ben Millers of this city were eliminated when they lost to the Clan MacKenzie team of Akron, O.

The road to the national final this season is a rougher one than St. Louis teams have been accustomed to for the class of soccer played by teams of the Detroit, Cleveland and Chicago districts is much improved over that of previous seasons. It is expected that the Vespers will face very stiff competition in their third-round game, which will be against a Chicago club or the Clan MacKenzie. The second round games in the Chicago district have not been completed. The third round draw will probably be announced early this week.

Joe Hand Leads Attack.

There was a strange mixture of good and bad football in the Vesper-Ratican game yesterday afternoon at St. Louis University field. A crowd of 2000 was thrilled by the furious attack of the Ratican team in the first 15 minutes of play, but the better passing game of the Vespers survived over the hit-or-miss kicking of their opponents and a top-heavy score resulted.

Joe Hand, with three goals, was the guiding influence in the Vesper attack. He found Fullback Anderson an easy man to beat and although Goalkeeper La Beume and Fullback Mencke were worthy opponents, the Vesper center man made the most of every scoring chance. La Beume exercised good judgment and had no chance to smother the scoring of the Vespers.

The first goal was scored by Fullback Tom Scott on a penalty kick awarded when H. H. Sprinkles got his arm in the way of Wimer's cross. Brangel's low hard-driven shot from a scrummed tie the count one minute later.

McHenry Misses Penalty.

Scott was instrumental in scoring the Vesper second goal when he drove a free kick straight to the middle of the field straight to the goal mouth, where Hansen deflected the ball into the corner. Hand then followed with his head from a corner kick by Wimer. Before the close of the half, a penalty kick was awarded the Raticans, but McHenry shot the ball straight at the goalkeepers feet, failing to score. McHenry's good work on the right line gave Brangel another chance, on which he made good, bringing the score to 3-2. But the Vespers added three more to their tally on shots by Hand and Becker, the center forward getting two.

The repeated mistakes of Fullback Anderson, the failure of Forward Thoms to arise to the occasion, and the sloppy work of the halfbacks brought the Ratican team to a state of helplessness in the closing 15 minutes of play. The Vespers, on the other hand, played sound football all the way.

Red De Bernardi,
16 Years in Game,
Is Visiting Star
Famous Basketer, All-America Star for 4 Successive Years.

EVERY PLAYER A GIANT
Local Five Will Have Its Best Quintet in the Field.

The Hillyard basketball quintet of St. Joseph, Mo., piloted by Forest "Red" de Bernardi, the "Red Grange" of the court game and All-American pivot selection for six successive years, will oppose Captain Don Russell's New Coliseum A. C. team tonight in the feature attraction of a double bill on the New Coliseum court.

Soldan High School's Interscholastic League squad meets the East St. Louis High School five in the preliminary contest. A 1000-yard race to be held under the auspices and jurisdiction of the Western A. A. U. has been scheduled as an added attraction.

De Bernardi, who is generally recognized as the greatest independent basketball star in the country today, led his Hillyard team to second place honors in the National A. A. U. championship last March.

Washburn Won in Final.
The St. Joseph players were eliminated by Washburn College in the titular final, 42 to 30. De Bernardi led the point scorers of both teams in the championship fracas by scoring a total of 13 points.

The Hillyards record this year includes 18 victories and no defeats. This season the chemists have one of the greatest collections of stars in history. Red de Bernardi

MURRAY AND PARTNER FOURTH AT MIAMI
Special in the Post-Dispatch.
MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 8.—Walter Murray, the St. Louis amateur, was paired with Jimmy Connell, Traversa (City Mich.) professional, and finished in fourth place in the amateur-professional tournament here yesterday. They had a best ball card of 71. The winning combination was Les Chase, Ruffalo amateur, and the New York professional, Mike Brady, who had a best ball of 66.

is probably the most famous, he red-head is playing his sixteenth year in basketball, being selected four years on the All-American team.

Other men to share the honors are Starbuck, Mosby, Rody, Wulf, Mueller, Allen, Giltner and Goodson. Starbuck, last season, was rated the greatest defensive player of modern basketball. Mosby, former Kansas star, is the other guard, is a good offensive player. Mosby was unable to make this tour due to a bad knee, which he received in the Oklahoma game.

Wulf 6 Feet 5 Inches Tall.
Rody, All-American in 1923, is De Bernardi's running mate. Rody is high point man of the squad, averaging 10 points a game. Wulf, another Kansas man, is permanent fixture at center. The big boy towers 6 feet 5 inches and weighs 200 pounds. In many of the games he has been high point man.

This will be the third tour for the Hillyards. The first tour was in the West, where met the leading teams, next they went into the South and defeated the leading clubs of the southland. They have defeated such teams as Oklahoma University, leaders of the Missouri Valley; Grinnell, Colorado College, four years champions of the Rocky Mountains; Cincinnati Athletic Club, Monon Athletic Club of Indiana, and several other noted teams.

The probable lineup follows:
St. Louis Coliseum A. C. HILLYARDS.
Miner..... R. F. De Bernardi
Neils..... L. F. Rody
Gibson..... C. Wulf
Thumser..... R. G. Giltner
Weil..... L. G. Starbuck

COBB TELLS OF PLAYERS' STRIKE
Chapter XXV in Ty's
Life Story
As Told by Himself

HERE were times in my first two seasons when I thought harshly of some of my teammates and they thought harshly of me. That, however, passed when I got into my first real trouble following the thrashing of that insulting fan in the old American League park in New York. Right then a bond of friendship was sealed. It has never been broken.

After all, the only real test I knew it would lay them open to punishment. I was willing to be the goat. But they refused to listen to me and acted without me. This telegram was sent to President Ban Johnson:

"Feeling Mr. Cobb is being done an injustice by your action in suspending him, we, the undersigned, refuse to play in another game until such action is adjusted to our satisfaction. He was fully justified in his action, as he was abused and treated with personal abuse from anyone. We want him reinstated or there will be no game. If players cannot have protection we must protect ourselves."

This was signed by every player on the club excepting myself and Hugh Jennings, the manager. The so-called strikers were: Sam Crawford, Jim Delehanty, Dave Jones, Oscar Stanage, Oscar Vitt, George Moriarty, John Ostrander, Edgar Willard, William Burns, W. C. Kingston, Paddy Bauman, William Louden, George Mullin, all of them, in fact. I remember those names offhand.

You can well imagine my state of mind. I lay awake at night thinking of how loyal the players had been to me and to their rights. At the same time I felt guilty of having put them in this plight from which there was little chance of escaping without severe punishment.

I thought then—I still think—it was the most unjust thing to suspend me without a hearing. I had done what I thought was right; had upheld my honor, and here I was suspended indefinitely and no sign of an immediate hearing. That is one custom in baseball that ought to be abolished. But it hasn't been changed. A ballplayer is still without adequate protection from insult and if he resents it he is suspended, just as I was. In the theater, if a spectator insults an actor he is ejected immediately. The officials and the police are supposed to do that in baseball now, but they don't always do it.

Johnson Stood Pat.
When President Johnson received the telegram he did not renege. As a result, the players went out to the park, waited until a short time before the game and returned to the hotel.

In the meantime Manager Jennings, placed in an awkward position, had been given sufficient warning and he got together a crowd of amateurs and semi-pros. The regular players turned over their things to them and a game, such as it was, was played with the Athletics.

In the meantime the whole league was upset by the situation. The striking players reaffirmed their determination not to play. Ban Johnson came on a fast train and so did Mr. Navin, owner of the Detroit Club. Meeting after meeting was held to no avail. Neither side would give in.

The Detroit players were flooded with telegrams offering them jobs with outlaw leagues. The situation was getting worse. After several now shows the league officials agreed to take up the question of upholding the rights of the players. It was decided that the request for my reinstatement would not be granted but that the striking players would be reinstated immediately and that any fines assessed would be settled in a way not to hurt them. They never paid them out of their pocket.

I went to the meeting and asked the players to go back while waiting final disposal of my case. I felt, and so did the other players, that they had won a victory by forcing the leagues to take steps to respect their personal rights.

The leading influence in this adjustment was the regard the players had for Mr. Navin. If he would be the main financial loser.

I had a feeling that my punishment would not be as severe as had been indicated and it wasn't. A small fine was imposed on me and I was back in the game in 10 days.

While we didn't get perfect protection after that the situation was vastly improved. No more insults were aimed at the players that season. That strike certainly made the club owners and the public stop and think.

The feature of all that trouble that appeals to me, however, was the loyalty and friendship of my teammates. My ambition increased tenfold. I thrust all my soul into the game and fought with every ounce to win the pennant. The whole team took on a feeling of solidarity and I believe the inspiration of the strike had much to do with our landing the championship.

The next chapter of Ty Cobb's story will appear in the Post-Dispatch Wednesday.

League to Frown on Pitchers Who Ask for Resin
By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—TODAY'S New York World says it is rumored that the American League has decided upon passive resistance to the little resin bag for drying pitchers' hands.

Although the letter of the new rule, passed by a combination of the National League and Commissioner Landis, will be followed, it is said, that a pitcher in the American circuit who requests the bag during a game this summer will be frowned upon.

The bag is to be passed to the moundman at the discretion of the umpire.

LARRY LAJOIE NAMED LEAGUE COMMISSIONER
By the Associated Press.
NEW CASTLE, Pa., Feb. 8.—Larry (Nap) Lajoie, who one time starred at second base for the Cleveland Indians and other major league clubs, has become the "Judge Landis of the Ohio and Pennsylvania State League." Lajoie will assume the post of commissioner with the opening of the 1926 season, and his duties will be similar to those of the supreme arbiter of the major leagues.

Lajoie, who resides in Cleveland, was named at a meeting of the league here.

STECHER WORKS OUT FOR WEDNESDAY'S GO
WITH JIMMY LONDOS

Joe Stecher, heavyweight champion of the catch-as-catch-can wrestling game, worked out yesterday in preparation for Wednesday night's match with Jimmy Londos at the New Coliseum arena. The mat champion engaged George Tragos and Joe Sanderson in practice bouts before an interested gathering of local mat enthusiasts at the Red Ball gym.

Stecher appeared to be in first-class shape and his training exhibition convinced the spectators that he is fit to give Londos an interesting setto. Working at a strenuous clip for 20 minutes with each of his trainers and terminating the exhibition by taking on both men at once, the champion displayed no trace of fatigue when he concluded his performance.

The mat fans were also entertained yesterday by Dick Davis, court, the pugilistic California heavyweight, who will oppose Renato Gardini of Italy in the semi-final attraction of Wednesday night's show.

Jimmy Londos did not report at the gym, having concluded heavy training Saturday.

The Tomorrow of Gasoline

What does the future hold in store for gasoline in its relation to man?

Will there be new uses for it? Will there be enough to go around?

What will the price be? It is interesting to contemplate its probabilities in our rapidly changing world.

Fifty years ago, oil wells were about 70 feet deep. The cost to "bring in" oil was a few hundred dollars. Today, wells are from 3,000 to 6,000 feet deep and it costs $50,000 or more to "bring in" oil.

What will it cost in 1930?

Twenty-two per cent of all the oil wells drilled in 1920 were dry—twenty-five per cent of all the oil wells drilled in 1925 were dry.

What will be the percentage in 1930?

In the past twelve and a half years, dry wells cost approximately $700,000,000 and in the same period producing wells which failed to return enough oil to pay their cost sustained an aggregate loss of another $500,000,000.

Wherein do these losses affect the price of gasoline, you ask?

They have an intimate bearing, because they must be absorbed by the industry and be spread over the productive wells.

But they supply only part of the answer to the fluctuating price of gasoline.

There are scores of other hazards and factors over which no man or group of men have any control which must be considered.

A few years ago the nation was confronted with what appeared to be an unavoidable shortage of gasoline.

Then the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) by reason of commercially successful cracking processes, which it had developed, saved the situation.

This Company was able to double the yield of gasoline from a barrel of crude.

Without Standard Oil Company (Indiana) cracking processes it is conservative to state that you would be paying a corresponding double price for gasoline today.

That was constructive service of inestimable value.

But what about tomorrow? Who knows?

For the week ending January 16, 1926, the daily average production of crude oil in the United States was 76,050 barrels less than it was during the same period of 1925.

For the week ending January 23, 1926, the daily average production of crude oil in the United States was 19,250 barrels less than for the week preceding.

If these decreases continue, the age-old law of supply and demand can be expected to exert itself and the price of crude oil will advance. If history repeats itself, the price of gasoline and other petroleum products can be expected to advance, unless other factors intervene.

It is with these problems that the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) must grapple, that you may have an un-failing supply of gasoline, when and where you want it, at the most reasonable price at which it is possible to supply it.

As long as the world goes on, economic conditions will change and the price of gasoline probably will fluctuate, but the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) with its research and business foresight has done much to stabilize and keep the price down.

Whether the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) will be as successful in inventing ways and means to combat the caprices of nature in the future is to be seen.

But when economic laws thrust themselves into the situation and cause fluctuations in gasoline prices, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) asks the people of the Middle West to consider the myriad factors having a bearing and known only to those in daily intimate touch with the oil industry.

It asks them to appreciate that this Company is constantly exerting all its energies to supply gasoline at a price which will reflect only the cost of crude oil, manufacturing and distribution, plus a small and reasonable profit.

Standard Oil Company (Indiana) served you yesterday, is serving you today—it will do so tomorrow.

WORLD COURT RESOLUTION GETS INTO SUPREME COURT
Washington Attorney Asks Leave to File Suit for Restraining Order Against Adherence.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—An effort to invoke the power of the American courts to prevent entrance of the United States into the World Court was made in a proceeding begun here today by Benjamin C. Catchings, a Washington lawyer.

The action was brought in the Supreme Court, which was asked by Catchings for permission to file a suit requiring Secretary Kellogg to show cause why he should not be restrained from consummating this country's entrance into the world tribunal.

Contending that membership in the tribunal would be unconstitutional, the petitioner declared the resolution of adherence adopted by the Senate rested on an invalid use of judicial and legislative authority.

Secretary Kellogg was made the defendant because he is now negotiating with the other nations in the World Court to carry into effect the Senate's resolution.

The petition will not necessarily eventuate in a decision by the Supreme Court upon the validity of the World Court resolution. It merely asks leave to file a suit which would require the court to determine whether the act will be passed upon by the Court after it reconvenes March 1.

WOMAN SLAIN IN MOSCOW NOT PRINCESS BOLENSKY
Fingerprints Prove She Was Helen Vassilievna Dubinskaya, Police Chief Explains.

MOSCOW, Feb. 8.—Investigation by the Associated Press today tends to prove that the body of the woman found in the snow of one of Moscow's principal streets Saturday was not that of Princess Obolesky, as reported by police, but that of Helen Vassilievna Dubinskaya, a native of Vladimir province. Finger print examinations made at the morgue by the criminal authorities confirmed this fact.

The chief of the Moscow police explained to the correspondent that the mistake in identity was due to the fact that both Princess Lydia Nikolaevna Obolesky and Madame Vassilievna Dubinskaya, appeared in no police records as drug addicts, both were reported missing, and there was marked facial resemblance between the two.

Children's Stories :: Household Hints

Children's Bedtime Story

By THORNTON W. BURGESS.

Seeing Isn't Always Believing

Eyes, you know, sometimes deceive. You see, but really can't believe.

—Peter Rabbit.

PETER knows. Peter has been fooled by his eyes so many times that he is inclined to be a little doubtful unless his nose or his ears tell him the same thing that his eyes do. Peter says that you may be fooled by your eyes, but it is seldom that you can be fooled by both eyes and ears, or eyes and nose. But once in a while ears and eyes do not help out at all. This was the case when early one morning Peter was up behind the old stone wall along the Old Orchard, very near to where the latter joins Farmer Brown's dooryard.

At that time in the morning Peter had no business up there. He should have been at home in the dear Old Briar-patch. No one knew that better than he. But you know how curious Peter is. Curiosity gets Peter into more scrapes than a few. Just now he was curious about Danny and Nanny Meadow Mouse. He knew they were living in Farmer Brown's henhouse; that was all he did know. So he was hanging around to see if he could get a glimpse of them after Farmer Brown's boy had let the hens out in the henyard.

He was just idly looking around while he waited, when he saw a bird fly from one apple tree to another and finally over to a vine on Farmer Brown's house. Now, there was nothing particularly surprising in seeing a bird at that hour of the morning. Sammy Jay was about; Drummer the Woodpecker was about; Slaty the Junco was about; Scop-Scoop the Brown Creeper was traveling up the trunk of a tree right near where Peter was sitting. Tommy Tit the Chickadee was telling all the world how glad he was to be alive, even if the ground was covered with snow. Yank Yank the Nutcracker was getting his breakfast. So it wasn't anything surprising that Peter should catch a glimpse of a flying bird. Nevertheless, Peter suddenly sat up very straight with his two long ears pointed straight up to the sky and such a funny look on his face.

"If I didn't know that I couldn't be, I should say that was Mocker the Mocking Bird; but Mocker is way down in the Sunny South. This is pretty far north for him even in summer. Now, who under the sun could it be? It must have been Butcher the Shrike that I saw just now. Yes, sir, it must have been Butcher the Shrike. I have heard that at a little distance he and Mr. Mocker look much alike. They are about the same size and they both wear gray and white. Butcher is around here, for Nanny Meadow Mouse told me that he nearly caught her. Just the same, that did look like Mocker. Goodness knows, I've seen Mocker enough times; I ought to know him. There goes that bird around the corner of Farmer Brown's house and it is the living image of Mocker the Mocking Bird, or I cannot believe my eyes.

"I thought I saw Mocker the Mocking Bird," replied Peter.

"Dee, dee, dee, chickadee," cried a merry little voice. There was Tommy Tit trying to get a drink from a drop of water on the end of an icicle hanging from a twig just above Peter's head. "What are you staring at, Peter?" cried Tommy, his bright eyes twinkling.

"I thought I saw Mocker the Mocking Bird," replied Peter. "Of course I didn't, but certainly I saw someone that looked just like him. It is tough, Tommy Tit, that I cannot believe my own eyes. I saw Mocker the Mocking Bird, but I didn't."

"Where did he go?" asked Tommy Tit.

"He went around the corner of Farmer Brown's house," replied Peter.

"Then why don't you go around after him?" asked Tommy Tit.

"I don't dare to," said Peter quite honestly.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

In Lieu of Water.

When cleaning windows in very cold weather use kerosene on the cloth instead of water. This will clean and polish beautifully without freezing.

Less Harmful.

If you are burning oil stoves to help out in the present coal situation, place a pan of water on top of each one. It will improve the atmosphere of the room greatly.

Protect Those Sleeves.

Many of the dresses of today have long tight sleeves that cannot be rolled up. A pair of elastic ham cuffs may be kept in the kitchen to pull on over these sleeves to protect them from stains.

Hand-Me-Downs.

It pays the woman who has a number of children to buy the best of material, on account of their possibilities of being handed down to the next child to wear out. It sounds rather hard on the youngest, but it certainly saves the mother time and money.

Presented at Court.

It is a good thing for some American boys visiting London that court costumes are pretty well standardized. Applications for presentation at this year's courts already are pouring in, but not even the applications placed by Mrs. Houghton, wife of the American Ambassador, will be decided until three weeks before the first court. This means less than three weeks to prepare costumes for the function. If the coiffure is specified, it may mean the buying of wigs for shingled heads.

NOTES ABOUT WOMEN

Germany can boast of only women who are regularly ordained preachers.

Twenty-five per cent of the membership of churches in Pittsburgh is composed of young women of 16 to 30 years of age.

Up until three years ago Miss Eva D. Allan, winner of the British Royal Academy gold medal for sculpture, was a typist.

Women workers are handicapped by illness just about twice as much as men workers.

The late Queen Margherita of Italy left a collection of pearls said to be the second most valuable in the world.

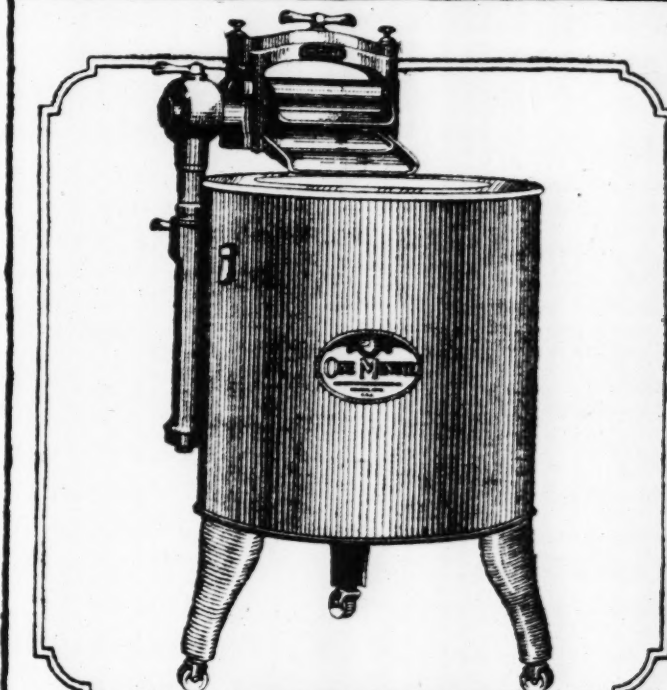

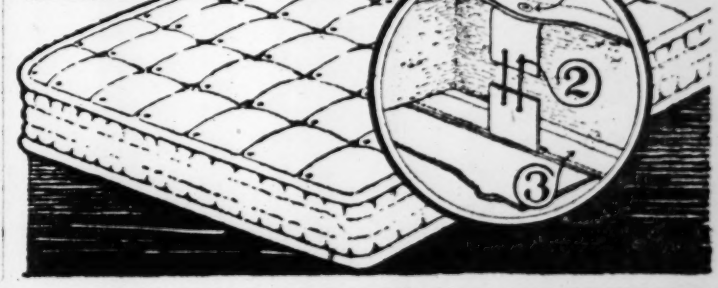

Due to the untiring efforts of Dr. Aletta H. Jacobs, Dutch women have acquired much greater political and economic independence.

AUTHORIZED ONE MINUTE DEALERS—ASK FOR A DEMONSTRATION

Can Be Purchased as Low as $10 Down. Balance on Easy Monthly Payments.

The New Nuonets

The Store for ALL the People

When your phone rings or someone is at the door, let the One Minute run. Don't worry. Your clothes are as safe in the washer as in your hamper. Nothing but soapy water is touching them, there's nothing mechanical in the tub to twist or tear even the finest fabric. This element of safety has puzzled washer manufacturers for years. It is the result of over a quarter of a century of One Minute development.

And, buttons and hooks are safe in the improved wringer. New balloon type wringer rolls wring the clothes better, but even a medicine dropper will go thru them without being crushed.

Only the ONE MINUTE Brings You These Notable Improvements

CLEANER CLOTHES: One Minute washes all clothes clean. Hand rubbing is entirely done away with. In this feature, a worthwhile advancement has been made. Even firmly embedded dirt is flushed from the meshes of any fabric by the mighty water action in the One Minute tub.

QUICKER: One Minute washes a big tubful of clothes in from five to ten minutes. There has never been anything like the One Minute water action for speed in washing the heaviest or lightest clothes and materials.

SAFER: One Minute will not injure your fine fabrics. Nothing mechanical touches them, no agitators, no cups, no moving devices of any kind are in the tub to catch or tear the clothes. The One Minute washes safer by water action alone. Water action created by an entirely new and better principle.

Phone any authorized One Minute Dealer for a Home Demonstration. Convenient weekly or monthly payments will be arranged.

Keeping Your Schoolgirl Complexion

By IRENE CASTLE

Copyrighted 1926 by P. O. Beauty Features

Take Care What Kind of soap touches your face

The kind beauty experts use themselves—how to use

TO endanger a good complexion with an improved soap is a folly. The only kind of soap to use on your face is a true complexion soap. Some soaps that are excellent in many ways are too harsh for the skin.

Laundry, scrub, with any soap you wish. But if guarding a good complexion is your aim, take care. Use a soap made to protect it.

Thus Palmolive is so widely used a soap made solely for one purpose: to protect the complexion. A soap made by experts in beauty to be used freely and lavishly on the skin.

The accepted beauty method today is the simple rule that follows: Nature's formula to "Keep That Schoolgirl Complexion." Leading skin experts urge. Thousands of beautiful complexions prove its results.

Follow this rule one week—Note the improvement that comes

Wash your face gently with Palmolive Soap, massaging it softly into the skin. Rinse thoroughly first with warm water, then with cold. If your skin is inclined to be dry, apply a touch of good cold cream—that is all.

Do this regularly, and particularly at the evening. Use powder and rouge, if you wish. But never leave them on over night. They clog the pores, often enlarge them. Blackheads and disfigurements often follow. They must be washed away.

Get real Palmolive

Do not use ordinary soaps in the treatment given above. Do not think any green soap, or represented as of palm and olive oils, is the same as Palmolive.

It costs but 10c the cake!—so little that millions let it do for their bodies what it does for their faces. Obtain Palmolive today. Then note what an amazing difference one week makes. The Palmolive Company (Del. Corp.), Chicago, Illinois.
